ITALO-ETHIOPIAN TENSION GROWS CRITICAL

Work Point Officer Killed in Street Crash

Capt. H. L. Leverin Dies in Car Smash On Esquimalt Road

Was Coming Into Town to See Friend Off on Midnight Boat—Crashed Against Telephone Pole With Terrific Force—Car Is Twisted Into Shapeless Mass by Impact

CAPTAIN H. L. Leverin, thirty years old, an officer in the Royal Canadian Engineers at Work Point Barracks, was instantly killed shortly after 10 o'clock last night when the automobile he was driving skidded and crashed into a telephone pole at the southeast corner of Catherine Street on Esquimalt Road.

The automobile was completely wrecked by the impact and the light chassis almost ripped in two. A dog, believed to have been riding in the rumble seat of the car, was found dead alongside his master in the front seat. Glass from the windshield was picked up by police officers sixty-nine feet from where the crash occurred.

According to police investigation, following the accident, there were no witnesses to the actual crash, but a young man reported that he heard the screech of brakes a few seconds before the car struck the pole. Dr. Harry Boyd, retired, who was on the scene a few minutes after, examined Captain Leverin and pronounced life extinct.

ON WAY TO CITY

The position of the car, almost wrapped around the pole, indicated to police that Captain Leverin was proceeding towards the city. It was afterwards learned that he was on his way to bid good-bye to Captain and Mrs. J. E. Hunter, who sailed last night for the Old Country.

The point where the accident happened is at the corner of Catherine Street and Esquimalt Road, just off the west end of the Johnson Street extension and not far from the Silver Spring Brewery, and a block from Alton Street. From Russell Street to Alton Street there are no curves on the thoroughfare.

SKID PROBABLE

In the absence of witnesses, police could not form any definite cause for the accident. The pavement was slippery with a light fall of rain and it is surmised that Captain Leverin's car skidded and, in attempting to check the skid by using the car brakes, forced the auto off the roadway and into the telephone pole. Police declined to estimate the speed of the auto at the time of the crash. Within a few minutes, scores of other cars had gathered at the spot, completely obliterating any skid marks there might have been.

CHIEF THROWN INTO THE MUD

Relief Strikers Near Winnipeg Handle Police Roughly Before Aid Arrives

WINNIPEG, May 14 (CP).—Police Chief Thomas Donald was attacked and thrown into a mud puddle when fifty relief strikers attempted to prevent a party of eight men going to work on a relief project in West Kildonan, five miles north of here, today.

Chief Donald and Constable Malcolm McDonald were unable to handle the crowd, and when heavily-armed Royal Canadian Mounted Police reinforcements arrived from Winnipeg, the trouble was over. None was arrested, but authorities said immediate action would be taken against the ringleaders of the riot.

MOCK AIR RAID WAKES PARISIANS

Half City Plunged in Darkness as Sirens Shriek and Planes
Roar Overhead

PARIS, May 15 (AP).—Shrieking sirens warning of a fictitious night air raid awoke Parisians at 2:30 a.m.
today as more than half the city was plunged into darkness in tests of civil defense protection.
Sounding for the second time within twenty-four hours, the sirens were the signal for "lights out" on the left bank of the Seine and the sable-robe-Paris and Bois de Boulogne neighborhoods on the right bank.

Airplanes flew over the darkened areas to see if they could be spotted out by "enemy" bombers.

KINGSFORD-SMITH WINS GREAT BATTLE AGAINST BALKY MOTORS

United States Senate Cuts Period Of Proposed NRA Extension

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP).—The United States Senate today passed almost by unanimous consent a resolution extending the NRA in a much contracted form for only ten more months—an action directly and openly opposed by President Roosevelt.

The modified bill was sent to the House of Representatives. The measure is still before the House ways and means committee, and there appeared little doubt the group would report out a demand for a two-year extension of the Recovery Act, as requested by the President.

Obviously, the hope of the White House for a two-year extension has rested with the House, and with the possibility that some compromise could be effected between the two branches.

Adjudicator Asks Citizens to Give Festival Support

George Dodds, One of Three British Visitors Here
as Judges at Big Musical Event That Opened Yesterday, Emphasizes Importance of Such Contests to Communities

"I HOPE you will support your Musical Festival here and come to it in ever-increasing numbers. It is the people of the town the festival matters to—perhaps more than the people matter to the festival, although the best music in the world doesn't mean half as much in a room with no one in it," said George Dodds, popular British adjudicator of the choral and vocal music, in addressing the first evening audience of the ninth annual Victoria Musical Festival at the First United Church last night.

TWO THOUSAND AT COURT BALL

Duke and Duchess of York
Lead Dancers in Opening Waltz

LONDON, May 14 (CP).—The King in kilts, wearing the uniform of colonel-in-chief of the Black Watch, tapped his toe to "Stars Fell On Alabama" tonight, but failed to join the dance, as a glittering host of 2,000 bejeweled ladies and their brilliantly-uniformed escorts paraded in a court ball at Buckingham Palace.

The orchestra stuck to a programme of fox-trots, polkas and waltzes.

WAIT FOR LEAD

A rather awkward pause developed when the band opened the dance programme with "The Merry Widow Waltz." For some time no one moved. Nervous whispers arose.
Everybody seemed to wonder who was supposed to lead off in the dance. The band played on.

Finally the Duke and Duchess of York, followed by the Duke and Duchess of Kent and the Prince of Wales, with Queen Maids of Norway, as a partner took the floor and broke the tension. The dance was on.

Finds Protocols Faked and Forged

BERNE, Switzerland, May 14
(AP).—The long-disputed "Protocols of the Elders of Zion," against which the Jews throughout the world had protested for years, were declared today by a Swiss court to be "faked and forged."

The court forbade the sale and distribution of the "protocols" in Switzerland and fined two of the five Swiss Nazis who were charged with slandering Jews and distributing "immoral literature."

Famous Aviator Narrowly Escapes Death in Stormy Tasman Sea

REACHES LAND ONLY AFTER GRIM STRUGGLE

SYDNEY, Aust., May 15 (AP).—
Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, famous trans-Pacific flyer, played a grim game of hide and seek with the stormy Tasman Sea today, but reached the coast safely after being believed forced down in his imperial ship, the Southern Cross.

His arrival over land followed a message which thrilled Sydney:
"Still flying, need bearings, location." Just a few moments before he had reported, "afraid I am in sea. Centre motor gone now."

After many vessels, including the cruiser Sussex and the pilot boat Captain Cook had gone racing to his rescue, it was assumed the noted Australian pilot had lifted his ship just as it was about to strike the sea.

HAD TWO COMPANIONS

With him on a flight from Sydney, bearing special jubilee mail to Wellington, N.Z., were Captain P. C. Taylor and Mechanic J. Stannage.

They had taken off from Sydney at 12:20 a.m., burdened with 34,000 letters and 14,000 pounds of freight.

The first knowledge that they had encountered difficulties came in a message that one of the propellers was gone and that another engine of the great multi-powered plane was sputtering. The flyers were 500 miles out of Sydney at the time.

ELECTIONS MAY AFFECT RADIO

Present Act Under Which Commission Functions
Likely to Continue

OTTAWA, May 14 (CP).—Radio will be one of the first subjects discussed with Premier R. B. Bennett by his colleagues on his return to Ottawa, it was learned today. Life of the bill under which the Canadian Radio Commission functions was extended before adjournment until June 1.

It is known that Hon. Alfred Du-rrieau, Minister of Marine, whose department has general supervision over radio, is dissatisfied with the present act. The commission has at its disposal about $1,500,000 a year derived out of, receiving licences.
From this it must pay costs of administration, of programmes and of leased wires and has not enough left to provide high-powered stations on a scale comparable with the development in the United States.

Proximity of the Dominion elections, however, may result in continuing the present act for the remainder of the year.

HUNDREDS EAGER TO BE NATURALIZED

CALGARY, May 14 (CP).—Social credit-conscious foreigners seeking British naturalization have staged such a stampede on the Calgary Courthouse that a second court to deal with applications was opened today. Many hundreds were on the waiting list.

Denies Any Diplomatic Action by Great Britain and France to Prevent Conflict With Ethiopia —Nearly Million Men Will Be Under Arms by End of Week

ROME, May 14 (AP).—Benito Mussolini, declaring Italy
"ready for any eventuality," today warned other nations to keep hands off the quarrel with Ethiopia. No one except Italy, he said in an impromptu speech to the Senate,
"can be the judge of this most delicate matter."

Denying that Great Britain and France had taken diplomatic action to prevent Italo-Ethiopian conflict, the Fascist chief said that those nations need not be alarmed lest Italy weaken herself in Europe by sending thousands upon thousands of troops into Africa.

ARMED STRENGTH READY

"We shall maintain under arms for all the time necessary," he declared.
"The three classes of 1911, 1913 and 1914. Moreover, another class, that of 1912, is in reserve and ready."
Army headquarters indicated the nation's men under arms would be pushed almost to the million mark by the end of the week. "The men," Mussolini told the cheering Senators "are equipped with the most modern weapons made in our war industries, which—I am revealing no secret—have been working full time for some months."

In any case, the Government today named two of its ablest diplomats, Count Luigi Marzocchi Aldrovandi, former ambassador to Germany and Argentina, and Grand Officer Raffaele Montagna, former Representative at The Hague, to serve on the conciliation committee proposed by the League of Nations.

WILL EXAMINE POWER ASSETS

Confirmation of Possibility of Damming Fraser Will Be Sought in July

This year the Province plans to send out a geologist to examine the possible dam sites on the Fraser River, potentially capable of developing 1,750,000 h.p. it was stated yesterday by Major J. C. MacDonald, comptroller of water rights for British Columbia.

Last Fall it was announced that at three places in the Fraser River rocky canyon walls made possible future construction of power dams, when commercial need for further development of waterpower into electricity became apparent. While such use may not be required for many years to come, it is desired now to complete information as to the actual sites and their possibilities.

THREE DAM SITES

Rocky gorges occur near the river above Lillooet, again near Moran Siding on the Pacific Great Eastern, and finally near Soda Creek. If, as now supposed, the bed of the river is composed of the same hard rock as the walls of these canyons, the physical requirements for excellent dam sites will be present, and the river with its immense power potentialities will take on a new and immensely valuable future asset.

It is believed that geologists can trace the rocky-formation at the three sites, without going to the expense of borings at this time. If the structure continues along the river without fault, much will have been done to support the present view as to the feasibility of the sites for power development when required.

FOUR GIRLS ARE SERIOUSLY HURT

Little Dancers Burned When Ballet Costume Caught Fire From Electric Heater

MONTREAL, May 14 (CP).—Four children were burned here tonight when a ballet costume caught fire from an electric heater backstage at the Imperial Theatre. The children were dancers in the annual recital of the Ruvenoff School. They were taken to hospital, all in a serious condition.

The injured are: Betty Williams, twelve; Hilda Charles, seven; Josephine Rivest, fifteen, and Marion Huskins, seven.

The accident occurred shortly before the curtain went up on the school revue. A crowd of young girls in flimsy ballet costumes were gathered in the backstage and corridor and in a dressing room. The heater, installed during the day because of damp weather, was operating in the corner of the office, and one of the girls, moving too close to the appliance, caught the edge of her tulle dress in the hot wires.

the report of $11 pledges for $17,284.50, of which $10,567.50 was received in cash.

Although it was hoped to collect $40,000 to carry out plans of the association, canvassers, team majors and captains were far from being disappointed when Frank Paulding pointed out that subscriptions pending should swell the total to approximately $25,000.

Chain-Letter Craze Spreads as Letters Ask for One Dollar

VICTORIA climbed on the band-wagon of chain letters in bank corridors, public buildings, business offices and stores, seeking fresh names to start on the road to easy money.

SEEKING CLOSURE OF LIQUOR STORE

Vancouver Requests All-Night Vending Be Discontinued as Detrimental to Morals

VANCOUVER, May 14 (CP).—The Police Commission, accepting the recommendation of Chief Constable Colonel W. W. Foster, will recommend to the British Columbia Attorney-General that Vancouver's all-night liquor store be closed.

The commission believes the store provides a source of supply for bootleggers, and is detrimental to the morals and good government of the city.

Mayor G. G. McGeer stated that commissioners believe police can take care of the bootlegging situation if the store is closed.

EVERYBODY IN IT

Girls at store counters, stenographers, waitresses, businessmen, taxi drivers, civic and government officials, and even newspapermen joined in the merry hunt for wealth that spread like wildfire in the down town areas. Personal sales of letters were the order of the new dollar grab, and it was estimated that probably 500 to 1,000 letters were in circulation before a o'clock last evening. It will likely be renewed today.

Nobody is apparently trying to
sible if the store is closed.

Jamaican Rioters Fire Upon Police At Banana Docks

Disgruntled Laborers Shoot From Ambush After Officers Break Up Waterfront Mob—Outbreak Quelled When Reinforcements Arrive—Shipping at Standstill at Oracabessa

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 14 (CP).—Rioting marked by gunplay burst out last night, according to messages reaching here today, among disgruntled banana laborers in the Jamaican village of Oracabessa.

Reinforced police quelled the mob after rioters had fired revolver shots at the officers without effect. The situation remained ugly tonight, in the face of threats that wharves would be burned and company trucks and cars destroyed.

Armed policemen patrolled streets along the waterfront, where the disturbances centred, while further reserves were held in readiness for a recurrence of the disorders.

FLARES INTO VIOLENCE

The laborers were dissatisfied with their pay from the Jamaica Fruit Producers' Association for loading steamships with bananas. Their complaints flared into violence last night with attacks against wharf officials.

Stores were being attacked, and some were beaten with sticks as the workmen, mostly negroes, ran riot.

A few of the armed rioters concealed themselves as the police arrived and fired from ambush. None of the officers was hurt, and the outbreak was stamped down swiftly as reinforcements arrived.

But the laborers could not be persuaded to go back to the boats, and tonight waterfront activities were at a standstill. The patrolling police maintained a close watch on scattered crowds in the fear that they might attempt to make good their threats.

Canadian Farm Loan Board Reorganized With New Chairman

J. A. Barnett Succeeds Dr. J. D. MacLean Who Remains Member of Board—To Prepare Recommendations for Superintendents

OTTAWA, May 14 (CP).—First meeting of the new Canadian Farm Loan Board will be held here tomorrow under the chairmanship of Major John A. Barnett, of Regina, whose appointment was completed today on the recommendation of Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes.

At tomorrow's meeting the board will prepare recommendations to Cabinet Council for the appointment of Provincial superintendents and the intention is to have the board functioning in all nine provinces within a week or less.

Major Barnett, a native of Carleton County, New Brunswick, and a graduate of Dalhousie Law School in Halifax, has had a long experience in agriculture matters, chiefly in Western Canada.

HAS WIDE EXPERIENCE.
For eight years he practised law in Innisfail, Alberta, and since returning from service overseas he has acted as chairman of the Soldier Settlement Board, deputy minister of natural resources for Saskatchewan, and recently as the Federal Treasury representative in drought relief expenditures in Saskatchewan.

Dr. J. D. MacLean, former chairman of the Farm Loan Board, and former Premier of British Columbia, will continue as a full-time member, as well as Charles Duquette, of Montreal, who has been on the board for some time. B. J. Roberts, controller of Government guarantees, Department of Finance, will act on the board as representative of the Minister of Finance. Under the old act, the minister himself was a member.

SCOPE IS BROADENED.
Loaning capacity of the board was increased, under amendments adopted before the Parliamentary recess, from $10,000,000 to $90,000,000, and it was learned today that the interest rate will be fixed at 5 per cent for first mortgage loans. Originally, the rate was 6 per cent and later was reduced to 6 per cent.

Operations of the board under the new regime will continue to be closely allied to the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangements Act, initiated last year. Under that legislation, farmers may have their debts composed and consolidated by a modified form of bankruptcy, but without the actual resort to bankruptcy proceedings. Once they have secured an arrangement with their creditors, the Farm Loan Board offers a means by which farmers may secure new money with which to carry on.

NEED IS FELT FOR AESTHETIC

George Dodds, Adjudicator for Musical Festival, Speaks to Kiwanis Club Here

With the development respecting shorter hours of labor in the world today, the question of how to employ leisure time was becoming a greater problem than ever before. In the opinion of George Dodds, of Newcastle, England, one of the adjudicators at the forthcoming Musical Festival in Victoria. With his colleagues, Dr. Gordon Slater, organist of Lincoln Cathedral, Mr. Dodds was a guest at the Kiwanis Club luncheon yesterday.

Mr. Dodds pointed out that the cultivation of the love for the beautiful in its various divisions was more and more essential today. With the perfection of mechanism to the point it was reaching, there was the danger, if the proper employment of leisure along the aesthetic lines were not attained, that shorter hours might become a loss rather than a benefit.

Not only must there be developed in life strong characters and bodies, but it was necessary to have the beautifying of life. There must be idealism among the youth of the nation. Without it, life amounted to little. "Some of our dreams might not come true, but the vision would carry us through trying times," Mr. Dodds declared.

STRIKE MAP UNCHANGED

Waterfront Workers Ballot Today—Company Sealing Mine at Corbin

VANCOUVER, May 14 (CP).—The British Columbia strike situation remained unchanged today, with interest centred chiefly on the ballot to be taken tomorrow by members of the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association on whether they favor a strike in sympathy with the walkout of nearly 2,000 relief camp workers.

ALREADY IN DISPUTE

The longshoremen are in dispute with the Shipping Federation of British Columbia on the matter of wages and certain terms of labor, and the strike, if called, would also emphasize their demands. Some 450 association members voted unanimously last night for a ballot on the strike question.

The date and duration of the strike would be left to the decision of the association executive.

CLOSING INDEFINITELY

The company had announced previously that the mines would be closed indefinitely.

Constable R. B. McKay, of Natal, who suffered severe head injuries on April 17, when Provincial Police and strikers clashed at Corbin, has been released from the hospital, but it is stated that he will be under a doctor's care for several months and unable to return to duty.

FIRM IN REFUSAL

Seven hundred miners in the Bridge River district remained on strike as officials of three large gold mines in the area continued firm in their refusal to grant wage increases up to $1 per day.

The strikers have demanded the recall of Adam Bell, deputy minister of labor, from the Bridge River area, where he has been attempting to negotiate a settlement.

Mrs. A. B. King Taken by Death In City Hospital

Mrs. Bessie Gregg King, aged sixty-one years, wife of Arthur Bromley King, 2612 Fernwood Road, passed away yesterday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. She was born in Fredericton, N.B., and had resided in Victoria since 1895.

She is survived by her husband and three sons, Frederick Ray, Arthur W. and Elmer J. and two daughters, Mrs. F. L. Anderson and Mrs. R. E. Graham, all of Victoria; her brother, C. E. Ray, assistant postmaster; and two sisters in Seattle and one in San Francisco.

PRINCESS NOW ONLY COUNTESS

"Woolworth Heiress" Divorces on Monday and Marries Again Tuesday

RENO, Nev., May 14 (AP).—Countess Kurt Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Princess Barbara Hulton Mdivani, sped away from Reno today for a California honeymoon with her handsome new husband.

The newlyweds, married this morning slightly more than twenty-four hours after Barbara's quick divorce from her play-boy prince, Alexis Mdivani, traveled by automobile with San Francisco their destination. They plan to remain in California for an indefinite period.

The shades in the rear of the car were drawn, but the twenty-two-year-old countess leaned forward and smiled as she waved to onlookers.

The Danish count was smiling too as the honeymoon began—a honeymoon which signified his loss of some $25 bets simultaneously with the winning of a $400,000 bride.

Before his dash by train and automobile from New York to Reno, the thirty-nine-year-old count made bets that he would not be married within a year.

Today, however, at the residence of Dr. A. J. Bart Hood, of Reno, he made the newly-divorced Woolworth "five-and-ten" heiress his wife.

It has been announced. This unit includes the kitchen, pantry and laundry and separate cook's cottage. The cost will be approximately $6,000.

Smooth Organization Characterizes First Sessions of Festival

Adjudicators Make Fine Impression From Beginning and Give Many Valuable Suggestions to Choirs and Soloists Here

WITH the splendid organization that has now, thanks to nine years' experience, become almost a routine, the 1935 Victoria Musical Festival got away to a smooth start yesterday morning, and kept to clock-like schedule throughout its successful opening day.

Highlights in the day's results were the winning of the following trophies: Sopranoist Club Cup, won by Spring Ridge School Grade III Choir, which secured highest marks among four competitors in Class 15; Klansmen's Club Trophy, won by Margaret Jenkins School Grade II Choir, securing highest marks among five competitors; and the Daniel Protheroe Cup, presented by the Cymrodorion Society of Victoria, won by David Evans in a group of six competitors in the Welsh folk song class, No. 52.

Gratifyingly large audiences were present at all three auditoriums. First United Church, where the choral and vocal solo classes were adjudicated—First Baptist Church, where the piano and organ classes were heard, and First Baptist school room, where the elocutionary contests took place.

POPULAR ADJUDICATORS
The adjudicators made a very fine impression from the very beginning.

George Dodds, of Newcastle, England, who was here for a previous festival, needed no introduction, and scores of the children who appeared in the choral classes that he adjudicated when he was last in Victoria, were delighted when he came down to the platform for the first time. He exhibited the same happy spirit, and delivered his adjudications in a constructively critical way that even the children could understand, although it was intended to be specially helpful to the teachers.

Dr. Gordon Slater, who occupied a desk beside Mr. Dodds at First United Church, also won instant favor, showing keen powers of observation and analysis, and a quick understanding of audience psychology. Arthur Benjamin, who is adjudicating the instrumental music at First Baptist Church, had much to say that was very helpful concerning both technique and interpretation in connection with the numbers played by the various classes that came before him in the course of the day.

In her role of adjudicator of the elocution, Mrs. J. P. Ferguson was been rather conservative and non-committal up to the present, but, nevertheless, has given some good advice to the contestants.

SOME CLASSES SMALL
Some of the classes produced very few competitors. For example, the afternoon programme at the First United Church had only one entry in several of the classes: Class 12, Grade I Choirs, only Spring Ridge School; Class 21, public rural elementary school choirs from two-room schools, Gordon Head School.

Musical Proves Value of Dodd's

"Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved me of intense kidney trouble," writes W. R. Manning, 472 King Edward St., Winnipeg. "My occupation of theatre musician necessitated sitting for a number of hours each day. Lack of exercise brought on intense kidney trouble. The pain I suffered was indescribable. Each attack was worse. My druggist suggested I try a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Either the third or fourth box brought me relief. A box of Dodd's Kidney Pills is always kept in the house now."

clined to push their voices at their throats in order to make them sound bright." The winner was Miss Eleanor Holton.

STANDARD LOW
"Nothing makes me feel more unhappy than to have to come up here and say that I don't think the standard is very good," Arthur Benjamin stated, in commenting upon Class 72, pianoforte solo for seniors. "We had only one case today which had an idea of building up Bach. This is a much bigger movement and a much deeper piece of music," he said. "It demands three things, good phrasing, good part playing and good building. In only one case did I like the climax."

"Schumann is another thing altogether. The first part is a fine big gesture. The second is a love song." The adjudicator warned pianists against playing octaves from the elbow. It should be done from the wrist. There was some praise for the winner, Miss Geraldine Percival.

FINE FUTURE
Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, adjudicator in the elocution class, said it was hard to refrain from eulogizing Lesly Clarke, winner of Class 145. He had a future in elocution, she declared. His voice tone and inflection were excellent. He was always behind his words, and his rating was good as was the light and shade of his work.

In adjudicating Class 140, Mrs. Ferguson said it was a pleasure to adjudicate in Victoria because of the high standard of the work here. Of Joy Groves, who won the elocution test in this class, she said he interpreted the piece with fine imagination and poise.

Ronald MacDonald, winner in elocution Class 141, portrayed the test selection with unusually fine understanding and thought. Dr. Slater found Class 49, vocal solo, open to lady or gentleman, playing own selection and accompaniment, a most interesting one. Of the winner, Miss Helen Ockenfeld, he stated she showed good vocal work and gave a pleasing climax.

"NICE OLD MAN"
Arthur Benjamin, adjudicating Class 71, noted that a lot of the competitors lost sight of the fact that Bach was a nice human, old man. He was the father of twenty-three children. Bach was not merely an exercise in two-part playing—he was vitally human. There were many different opinions about playing Bach, but he liked the bagpipe medium. The tone should have plenty of rise and fall.

One should remember that Bach composed for harpsichord, not for piano. (The adjudicator described the difference between the two instruments). The allegro, fortes and crescendos in the playing were taken "too matter-of-factly." Music without beauty was so dull.

Mr. Benjamin explained that phrasing in music was picking up the next note and joining it with what was left of the preceding one. If not, there would be very lumpy phrasing, and it was difficult to get that right shade. A proper tone is almost miraculous.

You can Bach softly or loudly, according to your own taste," said the adjudicator.

MATTER OF SPEED
Speed is another thing. Allegro in Bach was about a comfortable walking speed—about 140 on the metronome. Andante was about half that unit, but it was variable. A fault of many in their phrasing was putting the accent on the last note and so throwing the rhythm out. The pulsations should be at the beginning of the bar. It was much more graceful.

Chopin was to be treated like Bach. It was played with a certain amount of give and take. The bar should be of constant length. Some of the players seemed to get upset if they made a slip. The best of performers made mistakes. A slip of the finger was excusable but a slip in reading was inexcusable. Some of the people had their music in front of them, and yet when they broke down, didn't bother to look at it.

TOE MATCHING
"You need tone matching all the way through. The moment you strike the first note—you determine the standard all through the piece. You mustn't be frightened of it. I like to see an attempt, even if it isn't successful. Try to get inside the music for honest playing."

Junior Foresters To Be Represented In May 24 Parade

JUNIOR Forest Wardens will take their place as representatives of one of the Province's greatest industries in the parade here on May 24. Charles Wilkinson, manager of the Canadian Forestry Association, is in the city this week making all arrangements.

Mr. Wilkinson feels that these youths, who are doing such good work during summer months to prevent fires and assist in maintaining forest wealth of the Province, should rightly be represented in the Victoria Day festivities. He is leaving shortly for the interior for the purpose of organizing Junior Forester-Wardens' clubs and plans to hold a number of meetings before the fire danger period arrives.

HAVANA, May 14 (AP).—The first international sky train arrived safely at Havana today after a 300-mile flight from Miami, Fla.

U.S. President's Wife Will Visit Montreal Soon

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt plans a short visit to Montreal on June 8. She has accepted an invitation to preside at one of the sessions of the American Public Welfare Association there.

For a considerable time Mrs. McNab had been harping on the urgent necessity for the purchase of a fur coat like her neighbor's. Then Mrs. McNab became rather unwell. Whether this was a case of cause and effect is a moot point. At any rate, Mrs. McNab called in the doctor. At eight of him Mr. McNab suddenly exclaimed: "Oh, doctor, I'm awful glad to see you. It's the wife there that's worrying me. That

POLAND'S NEW CONSTITUTION

The new Polish Constitution is only a few weeks old, and its author, Marshal Pilsudski, has not lived to see its operation. At the time of his death, Marshal Pilsudski was Minister of War and Inspector-General. Since 1926 he has been regarded as the dictator of the country; certainly he was the outstanding name in Poland since the coup d'état nine years ago which gave him such authority. Prior to his death, however, he had arranged it, as author of the new constitution, that the President should be all-powerful. It would seem indeed as if the constitution was now designed to avert revolution. There is a considerable radical element in Poland. The last feat of the far-famed Marshal Pilsudski had been an attempt to clip its wings.

The new Constitution invests all power in the President's hands. He appoints and dismisses the Premier, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Inspector-General and Commander-in-Chief of the Army; he appoints one-third of the Senate; he can dissolve Parliament, including the Sejm, or Lower House; he can appoint his own successor; he decides the use of armed forces; in case of war, he automatically remains in office for its duration. The President is M. Ignace Moscicki, inventor and scientist. Whether he will continue in office following the death of Marshal Pilsudski is not known. The new "strong man" in the state is General Wladyslaw Slawek, who, presumably, for the time being at least, will become Minister of War and Commander-in-Chief of the Army.

The Poles occupy a precarious spot in Europe. They form a buffer state between Germany and Russia. In the case of war between those two countries, Poland could hardly escape being overrun by the armies of both combatants. Its fear ever since the Great War is that this will happen. Its foreign policy has been designed to prevent such a happening, and the new constitution was promulgated so as to make one man all-powerful to take such measures as would preserve Polish independence. The Franco-Russian alliance of mutual assistance has not reassured Poland. The promulgation of the new constitution was made just a few days before the announcement of the conclusion of that alliance. The loss of Marshal Pilsudski creates uncertainty unless an equally strong personality can be found to play the part he has played for the last decade. In fact, ever since the Great War, in the shaping of Poland's destiny. There are not many outsiders who believe that President Moscicki can fill the role. Another coup d'état is possible as an outcome of Marshal Pilsudski's death.

INDIAN CIVIL SERVANTS

The Indian reform proposals of the British Government, it is claimed, are supported by the Indian Civil Servants. This belief has been exploded by the uncovering of a memorandum which reveals the feelings of the Civil Servants, and which has been endorsed, with only minor reservations, by the All-India Association of the Civil Service, the Association of Bombay, the Association of Behar and Orissa and the India Police.

The report that is the basis of the Government of India Bill shows, according to this memorandum, an entire miscomprehension both of conditions as they are in India and also of the entire lack of confidence which the history of the last ten years has taught the Civil Servants of India. Then the memorandum goes on: "At best, the communal reservation of seats in the Legislature will prevent there ever being a stable Ministry, for the opposition will never be more than a few votes in the Chamber behind the Government. This will necessarily reflect at once upon the control of terrorism, Bolshevism and Communism, and also in the honest and efficient collection of revenue."

The memorandum, too, points out that "it is common knowledge that the finances of the country, both at the centre and in the provinces, are, at the time of writing, compromised, and have been for three years; and it is common ground that the new system will not be less, but more expensive." As to the safeguards, the memorandum is caustic in saying: "We fear that they will be found to resemble the green spectacles which the coster puts on his donkey to make him think the wood shavings are lettuce; and our Indian colleagues are much more vulnerable than we are, as the experience of Mr. Sinha has recently shown in Parliament, and as the boycott of 1921 shows on the other hand."

This memorandum was intended only for the information of members of the Indian Civil Service and, therefore, it was couched in plainer terms than the I.C.S. would use in correspondence with the Government. It is a document which expresses the opinion of the man on the spot. It has received such endorsement, wherever circulated, that now it has been made public. It is likely to influence the course of Imperial legislation. It reveals the feelings of those who are expected to work the "reforms" which are contained in the Government of India Bill.

BORES

There are many definitions of what constitutes a bore. One is that it is a simple, self-centred prattler with an excessive estimate of his entertainment value. Another is that it is one who has an obsession on some subject and must talk about it even to those who are in no sense interested. There is a general consensus of opinion that bores constitute a social evil. That at least is the opinion of an American newspaper which has opened a campaign against them. It has invited its readers to name the worst bore of their personal acquaintance, giving a reason for their judgment. This invitation is likely to lead to some undesirable publicity for individuals, perhaps even to libel suits when names are mentioned.

Everyone recognizes a bore as one who keeps on repeating things which are unpleasant and who hammers with insistence on something that is patent to all. Private life, more than the public platform, is the home of bores. The London Times says they are to be found in their full glory in sitting-rooms, on the decks of steamers, in railway carriages. That newspaper, too, says that students of history must recognize what a wonderful time prosy people had in the past. Here is its comment: "The long nights in medieval castles, not to go back to Aurignacian caves, must have seemed made for the leisurely regalia of the days, or of last year's events. The ancient hunter had an audience which dared not go outside, and was as well placed as his modern counterpart the goiter when heavy rain confined an audience in the clubhouse for him. But the gregarious are not the only bores. The Englishman, it has been said by an acute observer, is always wishing that people would go away. To take a general resentment at other people's existing and having views into public places where such people are sure to abound; and to survey the scene gloomily in silence punctuated by little snorts of disgust as a small contribution to the world's debate, is to deserve a more ignominious label than is ever tied round the neck of large, simple, self-centred prattlers whose chief fault is an excessive estimate of their entertainment value."

COMBATTING DROUGHT

Work is commencing on the campaign to combat drought conditions in the Prairies. There is to be the construction of several small dams in the Saskatchewan area and subsequently larger dams will be built when a survey is completed. It is proposed that $1,000,000 will be spent on the work this year. In conjunction with this programme, farm scientists are striving to develop drought-resistant grasses. The whole problem, from a variety of angles, is being investigated, and both Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture are co-operating.

The campaign now commenced will occupy possibly twenty years; it may be that it will be necessary to pursue it so long as the Canadian West engages in agriculture. It is felt that drought conditions can be overcome; at least, they can be ameliorated. The objective in view is to give stability to agriculture, not only by making for more regular harvests but, as well, by encouraging the production of diversified farming. The present year is one of normal precipitation. It is possible even that nature has rectified the drought conditions for the time being. That fact is not going to deter the Government concerned from going ahead with their programme. In the course of time, moisture will be conserved, reservoirs will be kept supplied, trees will be grown to retain precipitation, the soil will have increased reserves against the days of trouble. Moreover, during this process of obviating drought, farmers will be given such work as will enable them to recoup themselves for years of ill conditions.

THE PENALTY OF EVIL

The lines of suffering on almost every human countenance have been deepened, if not traced there, by unfaithfulness to conscience, by departures from duty. To do wrong is the surest way to bring suffering. Do wrong deeds ever failed to bring it. Those sins which are followed by no palpable pain are yet terribly avenged, even in this life. They abridge our capacity for happiness, impair our selfish for-innocent pleasure, and increase our sensibility to suffering. They spoil us of the armor of a pure conscience and of trust in God, without which we are naked and the hosts of foes and are vulnerable by all the changes of life. Thus, to do wrong is to inflict the surest injury on our own peace. No enemy can do us equal harm with what we do ourselves whenever or however we violate any moral or religious obligation. —Channing.

THOUGHT

Tonight the moon makes magic on the sea.
 With dancing lights that meeting, merge and part
 To meet again, combining endlessly
 And breaking but to make a further start.
 Even like to moonlight on a rippling sea,
 Do thoughts converse, combine and break free,
 A gleaming path on life's immensity.
 —Catherine C. Haggman.

Italy Can Be Only Judge in Delicate Matter, Says Duce

TROOPS ALONG BORDER
Before Mussolini spoke, Alessandro Leasana, Under-Secretary for Colonies, declared Emperor Haile Selassie had mobilized troops along the border between Ethiopia and Italy's African colony.

In part, Mussolini said in his address to the Senate: "The problem of Italy-Ethiopian relations is the order of the day, and not only in Italy. Much of what is said and written is not worth the trouble of being corrected, even less being confuted in this hall. But one rumor accused in some foreign circles is to be denied formally immediately, a rumor, that is, of Franco-English diplomatic steps in Rome, 'steps' highly displeasing."

"Although persons beyond the frontier would have desired it, the truth is that no step has been taken up to now."

HIGHLY IMPROBABLE
"And, owing to the Italy-French-Foreign relations it is most probable that there won't be any, even in the future, because there is no need for diplomatic proceedings in the nature of a step in order to obtain from us whatever one desires it, and along simple lines of cordial reciprocal relations, an exposition of our point of view amply demonstrated."

"In the meantime, the word of 'fairplay' thanks it to be addressed to those who seem to preoccupy themselves in more than a fraternal manner about military efficiency. This efficiency, according to them, could be weakened by an eventual conflict in East Africa."

OF SAME OPINION
"One can reply to these solicited disinterested councillors who consider our presence in Europe indispensable, that we are also of the same opinion. But it is not in order to be tranquilly secure in Europe that we intend to have our backs completely secure in Africa."

"It is worth while to point out that up to this time the number of workmen sent out perhaps surpasses the number of soldiers. But I wish to add immediately in the most explicit and formal manner that we will send out all the soldiers we believe necessary."

"With regard to the diplomatic development of the controversy, it is now known that we have not refused to confer with representatives of the Ethiopian Government. We have already for some time communicated with Addis Ababa that we were disposed on our side to name two representatives for Italy on the conciliation committee."

"As to Europe, and her regrettable imminent eventualities that might come about, I desire to reconfirm to the Senate that we will maintain under arms for all the time necessary, the three classes of 1911, 1913, 1914. Moreover, another class, that of 1912, is in reserve and ready."

"I believe a total of 800,000 to 900,000 soldiers is sufficient to guarantee our security. They are men perfectly trained, with morale which it is not exaggerated to say is superb."

LONDON APPREHENSIVE
Copyright, 1935, by The Havas Agency. LONDON, May 14 (CP-Havas).—Fear prevailed in London tonight that Italy-Ethiopian tension is reaching the point where war eventually may come.

Official circles foresee extraordinary international complications. They fear that Italy and Ethiopia will re-engage the Japanese-Manchurian crisis before the League of Nations and this might culminate in Italy abandoning the League, as did Japan.

Austrian circles in London fear, as a corollary to this, the playing of a trump card by Germany. They say that in the event of war, and if condemnation of Italy by the international body in Geneva should follow, the Government of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria would not last a month.

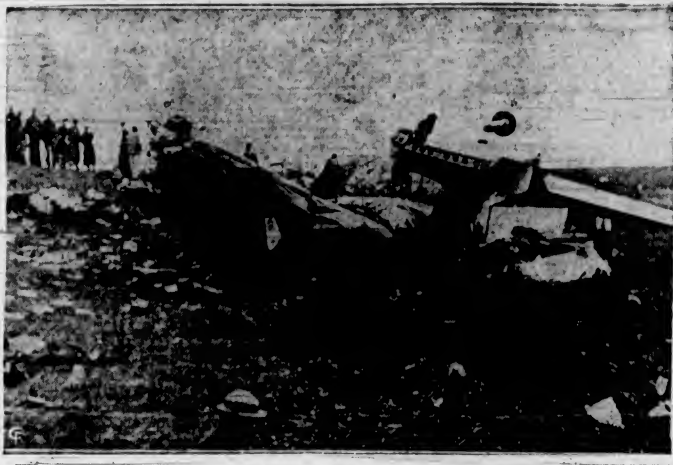

HOPE ALMOST SHATTERED
ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, May 14 (AP).—Fears that hostilities between Ethiopia and Italy would begin in September, when the rainy season ends, were expressed in Government circles today as word was received of Italy's action in mobilizing 200,000 more troops.

A Government spokesman said Emperor Haile Selassie probably would return to the capital at once from a provincial inspection tour to summon a council of tribal chiefs.

Ras Muligeta, Minister of War, said that the massing of Italian troops in East Africa "has all but shattered the hopes of a peaceful settlement and the avoidance of bloodshed by Christian nations."

PICTURES AT LANGFORD
LANGFORD, May 14.—The monthly meeting of the Langford Parent-Teacher Association was held in the schoolhouse on Friday evening. Some splendid motion pictures were shown by Sergeant Larsen, who has served four years with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Arctic patrol. The usual business of the association followed, with D. B. F. Bullen presiding.

Wreckage of Air Liner in Missouri

What happened to the T.W.A. transport plane, the air liner Sky Chief, when it crashed head-on into a Missouri pasture is eloquently, though mutely, told in this first photo, rushed to Central Press, at San Francisco, by plane. The picture shows the giant Douglas transport ship ploughed into the ground, killing five persons and injuring eight, one of them perhaps fatally. The fuselage, as may be seen, was almost torn in two, the motors imbedded in the ground, parts tossed for yards around and the wings ripped by the terrific impact. Most of those aboard were asleep in their berths at the time of the tragic fall.

ASKS CITIZENS TO SUPPORT FESTIVAL

and vocal trio events where the competition assumed quite a lively nature.

Because of the number of people involved, the contest between the Fairfield Church Choir and Emmanuel Baptist Church Choir for possession of the Kiwanis Club Challenge Shield was followed with special enthusiasm.

Coming last thing on the programme, it made a very good climax, and the audience received with generous applause the announcement of the adjudicator, Dr. Gordon Slater, that Fairfield Choir had been awarded the trophy with a margin of one mark in its favor. Emmanuel Baptist Church won it last year.

PIANOFORTE CUP
The senior championship finals in the pianoforte solo class, competing for the Willis Piano Company Cup, was won by Miss Elsie Friend second and third place, respectively, being accorded to Martha Ferguson (Ladyamith), and Geraldine Elhel Perceval. This, too, made a very fine finale to the competition.

Playing different numbers because they represented different classes from the semi-finals in the afternoon.

The British Columbia Dramatic School Junior Cup was awarded to Leslie Douglas Clarke, last of the competitors heard in the finals of this group, which produced five contestants, and the vocal trio comprising Elaine Basanta, Verna de Macedo and Dorcas Muir carried off the Hollywood Ladies' Musical Club and Miss Olive Campbell Challenge Cup with a margin of five marks to the good over their rival, a group composed of Dorothy Fuller, Nancy Kyle, and Peggy Lowe.

JUDGES' COMMENTS
"These are two difficult numbers, the selection of which shows good knowledge of repertoire and excellent taste on the part of the selecting committee," said Dr. Gordon Slater, the adjudicator, in commenting on music chosen for the intermediate choir class.

Fairfield Choir was congratulated on its good sense of melodic line, accuracy, pitch, and crescendo in the first number, Howell's "Here Is the Little Dove," but they failed to present the spirit of the work as it might. Emmanuel Baptist Church, which received two marks higher than their competitor for their presentation of this number, showed finer sense of the atmosphere and exaltation of the work. But Fairfield Choir received three marks more than Emmanuel for the second number, "This Sanctuary of My Soul." Cyril Warren conducted the winning (Fairfield) choir, and W. H. Muncy the Emmanuel Choir.

ELECTRA ORCHESTRA
The Electra Orchestra, directed by George J. Dyke, evoked considerable enthusiasm. Arthur Benjamin, the adjudicator of this class, came down to deliver a breezy verdict in which he stated it was the first time he had been called upon to adjudicate a group of the kind. While he did not expect to like it, he did, much to his own surprise, and probably thanks to the fact that he was not "high-brow."

"The function of music is not only to educate; it is to entertain. The instrument does not matter so much if the man behind the instrument is a musician," he commented, in justification of his previous remark. He thought probably the audience even the "high-brows" enjoyed the playing of this delightful ensemble, too. His principle criticism was of the choice of music. The "Volga Boat Song" he liked, but the "Lieutenant-Governor's March" he thought hardly worthy of the orchestra's interest, and suggested they should study a Schubert or Elgar march.

OTHER CLASSES
George Dods adjudicated the vocal trio, stressing the importance of noting the rhythm, making harmonic basis, and striving for interpretation of the poem. Vocal ensembles should not "tune up" in public.

"Where are the boys in Victoria?" he asked. "Three times in the course of the day he had occasion to comment on their absence from classes where boys could have entered."

The contest for the British Columbia Dramatic School Junior Cup, finally won by Leslie Douglas Clarke with his recitation of Brownings' "The Lost Leader," called forth some useful suggestions from the adjudicator, Mrs. J. P. Ferguson, who sought in all the contestants evidence of imagination and interpretative power as well as good phonetics, meter, intelligence, and a sense of naturalness. Of Barbara Kelly, of Vancouver, who won the runner-up marks with her recitation of Milne's "The King's Breakfast," she said: "This contestant should go on the stage."

FUND DRIVE TERMINATES

lection of 151 pledges for $2,767.50, the sum of $1,975.50 being in cash. The fund was divided, under W. T. Straith, Kenneth Ferguson, Alex Straith and Frank Waring, brought in eighty-nine pledges for $1,712, of which $1,299.50 was in cash.

Col. Brooke Stephenson's special committee of eight businessmen collected eighty-two pledges for $8,967, of which $4,581 was in cash.

W. W. Martin, who collected twenty-one pledges for $2,575.50, received the "On to Prosperity" Cup for the greatest amount turned in by a member of the four divisions. The sold division received the Canadian emblem for the highest divisional collection.

Mayor David Leeming thanked all those who participated in the campaign for their untiring efforts to reach the objective of $40,000. He also tendered his hearty thanks to the press and to the radio station for its programmes arranged by Robert Smith. He paid tribute to the work of Frank Paulding, campaign organizer, and his assistant, Miss Peggy Horne.

DOWN TO BUSINESS
"The Tourist Trade Development Association arranged a schedule of expenditures on the basis of collecting $40,000, so we must not expect the organization to accomplish quite as much as was originally planned," His Worship asserted. "Next week we will get down to business and inaugurate our programme of tourist attraction development which will also benefit citizens."

"Last week I visited many beauty spots in and around Victoria which are unsurpassed in their magnificence. All these places will be made available so that tourists and public alike may enjoy them," the Mayor stated.

"Take swimming alone. We have many beaches and lakes within a short distance of the city which will provide the finest swimming facilities upon the coast. Before long we are going to find additional wealth coming into our city through increased tourist trade," Mayor Leeming concluded, thanking T. H. Elick and his staff for their share in the campaign.

PRaises OUTLOOK
E. G. Rowbottom moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Mayor for his efforts to make the campaign a success. He declared that Victoria and Vancouver Island would speedily move ahead if all residents had the interest, outlook and enthusiasm of His Worship.

On Friday morning at 11 o'clock, the executive of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island will meet the campaign executive to go over all reports. Those on the campaign executive are Mayor Leeming, chairman, T. H. Elick, Col. Brooke Stephenson, J. W. Hudson, Harold Husband, R. H. B. Ker, T. P. McConnell, William F. Pinfold, E. G. Rowbottom, W. T. Straith, Frank Parridge and Alderman T. W. Hawkins. A collection system will be installed to take care of all outstanding pledges.

LIFE OF NURSE IS RECOUNTED

Very Rev. S. Quainton Pays High Tribute to Work of Florence Nightingale

Paying high tribute to the great work done by Florence Nightingale to ameliorate the suffering of the sick and wounded in the nineteenth century, Very Rev. Cecil S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, in the second last of his lectures on "Modern Christian Social Reformers," last night, in Memorial Hall, told of the many reforms instigated by the great nurse at the Crimean War, in England and India.

The concluding address will be given on May 28 and will be entitled "Charles Kingsley—Christian Socialist." It was announced.

Concluding his remarks on Florence Nightingale, Dean Quainton spoke briefly on present economic conditions and expressed his favor of insurance against sickness. He also supported unemployment insurance, he said, and foresaw state control of hospitals and medicine as he believed "private enterprise is breaking down."

WORKED WITH POOR
Thoroughly acquainted with his subject, the speaker delivered an eloquent address on the life of the woman who proved an angel to thousands of sufferers, and who founded modern hospitals.

Born into a well-to-do English family in 1820, Florence Nightingale had all that money could buy and enjoyed a generous education, the Dean explained. This life did not satisfy the woman, however, and in her late teens she delighted in industrious work among the poor and suffering. She felt at that time that a great life of social work was ahead of her.

Against the wishes of her parents she went to Germany to study nursing, later returning to England, where she became the foremost nurse of her day. In 1854, with the outbreak of the Crimean War, she led a band of some thirty-eight nurses, the first women nurses used in warfare, to Scutari, near Constantinople, where she established a great hospital. Her efforts there revolutionized army nursing, but after the war her health failed because of overwork.

ESTABLISHED HOME
Dean Quainton told how England welcomed her at the close of the war and she was given $250,000, with which she established at St. Thomas Hospital, London, the Nightingale Home for training nurses.

Later Florence Nightingale turned her attention to the plight of nurses in the workhouses, and founded for them training schools in London and Liverpool. Still led by a great desire to help all people, she worked in the interests of India and was the "Providence of the Indian Army," the speaker declared.

On August 13, 1910, she fell asleep at noon and never awakened, Dean Quainton said. She was buried in a lonely churchyard, according to her wishes.

The SOS was followed, however, by a message that they were flying back to Sydney with two motors working. Kingford-Smith had dumped at least part of his cargo and his spluttering engine apparently smoothed out as his ship gained altitude.

NEW DIFFICULTIES

The difficulties were not ended, however, and at 10:02 a.m. reports from the ship said: "Wind rising, nasty sea."
Suddenly, came the message that the flyers feared they were in the sea, and then just as suddenly the report that they were still aloft. It was not long afterward that the Southern Cross reached the coast.

When Sir Charles reported he was in distress, he said: "Throwing cargo overboard, engines likely to peter out."

"I am dumping my cargo; unable to keep height," another message from the noted Australian pilot read.

"I may have to dump the mails and petrol."

"Hope Sydney will have fast destroyer handy, but hope to reach coast."

A message said: "Clipped 100 feet. Unable keep height. Trying to keep from the coast."

A message picked up in Sydney said:

"Tell wives not to worry. Still flying. At that time he was 200 miles from the coast."

Later, his navigator, Captain P. C. Taylor, had to climb onto a wing to make emergency repairs on the port engine, which began to falter.

High winds and stormy seas added to the peril of the Australian airman and his two companions.

ARISTOCRAT AMONG DOGS

Tibetan "Lion" Will Be Featured in Charity Show at Willows

TAIKOO KOKONOR

Among the aristocrats of local canine society to be paraded for sweet charity's sake at the Willows on Saturday next, under the auspices of the Junior Jubilee W.A. of Jubilee Hospital and the Victoria City Kennel Club, none will have a better right to wear the ribbons of ancestry or whatever decorations worn by dogs of long descent and blue-blooded pedigree—called—than Taikoo Kokonor, a famous Tibetan "Lion Dog," owned by Miss Margaret Torrie, of Victoria.

In a recent issue of "Hutchinson's Dog Encyclopedia," a publication which dog lovers recognize as probably the foremost authority devoted to the varied chronicles of dogs in all sections of the world, Taikoo Kokonor and his owner is featured in several photographs and considerable descriptive matter, so merely mentioning these facts should suffice to show how important Taikoo is rated by the leading dog publication.

Telling about the "Lion Dog," the encyclopedia relates that the Tibetan dog "is a dainty toy dog which can boast of a sure descent for centuries. They have come down through the ages, being bred in certain monasteries and in certain villages in Tibet. This Tibetan spaniel of the Kinghouse has a common ancestor, but whereas the "Pekingese" has been selectively bred to produce the grotesque dog known today, the "Lion Dog" has been left to develop as nature willed, hence the great difference between them at the present time."

Recital Gives Students Idea Of Atmosphere

Much interest attached to the studio recital given by pupils of Mme. Eva Baird recently. Sixteen or seventeen students in all were presented in the well-arranged program, which was designed especially with a view to familiarizing the singers with concert atmosphere.

A number of guests present greatly enjoyed the concert, which included the following numbers:

"Duet, 'Greetings' (Mendelssohn) by Sheila Conwa, and Eleanor Walker; solo, 'My Love Abode' (Schubert), Brian Green; 'Romance' (Gounod), Dorcas Wilton; 'The Dandelion,' Honor Benson; Micaela's aria from 'Carmen' (Bizet), by Marjorie Benson; 'Gentle Maiden,' Richard D. George; 'Er des Herrliche von Allen' (Schumann), Violet Wilson; aria from Puccini's 'Tosca,' Norman Tyrrell; 'Eri Tu' from Verdi's 'Masked Ball,' by Donald Brake; 'Hear Ye, Israel' (Mendelssohn), by Jennie Hall; 'The Cloths of Heaven,' by William Lyle; Haydn's 'With Verdure Clad,' by Sheila Conwa; Dorothy Gough in two songs; 'The Peacock's Prayer' and 'Britany,' aria from 'Cavalleria Rusticana' (Mascagni), by Eleanor Walker; 'Edward' (Loewe), by Alva Wetherill.

HITLER SPEAKS NEXT TUESDAY

Reichstag Convoked to Hear His Expected Address on Foreign Policy

BERLIN, May 14 (AP)—Adolf Hitler today convoked the Reichstag—divested of legislative powers under the Nazi regime—for Tuesday, May 21, to hear him deliver his eagerly-awaited address on foreign policy.

Friends of the realm leader tonight said he would again express his willingness to scrap every gun, every ship of war, every fighting plane the Reich has. If the rest of Europe does likewise.

INVITATIONS RECALLED

An earlier announcement said the Reichstag session would be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Telegraphic invitations were quickly recalled, however, after Hitler decided with characteristic suddenness to wait until after the funeral on Saturday of Germany's late Polish political adviser to assembled friend, Marshal Joseph Pilsudski.

May 17 is the second anniversary of Hitler's first major foreign-legislators.

Two years ago he told the Reichstag and the world:

"Germany would be ready, without further ado, to dissolve her whole military equipment and destroy the scanty remnants of arm left her. If neighboring countries would unreservedly do the same."

"Germany is unqualifiedly ready, further, to put forward no claims whatsoever to conceded weapons of aggression, if within a certain period the armed nations themselves destroy these offensive arms."

WOULD BE DRAMATIC

Friends of the Fuehrer said his taste from the dramatic world have caused him to relish reiteration of those statements two years later to the day, now that Germany's army and air force have been "regenerated" and rebuilding of the navy started.

Official mourning was decreed in the Reich the day Pilsudski died, as well as for the day of his funeral.

City and District

Trades Council Meeting—The regular meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Trades and Labor Hall.

Measles Reported—Dr. Richard Pelton, city medical health officer, stated yesterday that two cases of measles had been reported to him in the city. Because Victoria has been practically free of measles since 1922, Dr. Pelton urges that any further cases be immediately reported to his office in the City Hall.

Magazines Wanted—The demand for copies of the May issue of The Canadian Abolitionist has been so large that the local Anti-Vivisection Society cannot supply it. Persons who have copies to spare are asked to return them to the honorary secretary, Miss Dora Killo, 315 Sayward Building.

Kiwanis Shelter—The Kiwanis Club members were informed yesterday at the luncheon of the organization by A. S. Denney that contributions to the Kiwanis shelter for the waterfront were coming in. C. Elwood Watkins said that work had commenced on Monday on the construction.

Authorize Donation—A donation to the Tourist Trade Development Association was authorized last night by the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion. Four new members were initiated. It was announced a masquerade dance would be held early in June in the Court Street headquarters. Other routine matters were discussed.

Expresses Contentment—At the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday, feeling reference was made to the death of D. N. MacDonald, manager of the Etnamel Heating Products, who had passed away yesterday morning. On the motion of A. D. King, it was ordered that a letter of condolence be sent from the club to the widow.

Grove to Stand—No attempt will be made to log Cathedral Grove in the Cameron Lake area, it was reiterated yesterday by British Columbia forestry officials. This fine stand of timber is one of the tourist attractions on the Nanaimo-Alberni Highway. The timber is privately held, but the Province has been assured that it will not be cut.

To Address Brotherhood—On Thursday at 8 p.m. at St. Barnabas Church school room, the men's brotherhood of that church will have a guest night for the men's clubs of St. Mark's and St. Alban's.

The guest speaker will be Rev. Robert Connell, who is to give a short address on "Victoria and District From the Point of View of a Nature Lover." All men interested will be welcome.

Flowers Destroyed—To prevent repetition of damage done when the public trod on flower beds at Parliament Square on Accession Day, warning was issued by the Premier's secretary yesterday that on May 24 the flower beds will be roped off, and the public asked to respect the barriers. The May Queen crowning is to be staged in connection with Victoria Day at the Legislative Buildings.

Anthropologist Here—Dr. Alex Hrdlicka, curator of the Division of Physical Anthropology, Smithsonian Institution, was a fleeting visitor in Victoria yesterday, between boats. Dr. Hrdlicka is on his way north to Alaska for field research work, in charge of a party of college students and scientists. Internationally noted for his work in connection with the United States National Museum, Dr. Hrdlicka will spend the next few months in the North.

Must Do Work—Relief "strikers" at Prince George, who clashed with the Provincial Police on Monday, will have the choice of working out their relief allowances on Provincial projects, or of being struck off relief. Premier Pattullo intimated yesterday, Single men, receiving from $9.00 to $12.00 monthly, are required to do from three to four days' work, and married men, receiving up to $18.75 per couple, approximately five days' work, under Provincial supervision.

Presumption of Death—The right to presume death with regard to George Cunningham McIntosh, who disappeared from the night boat between Vancouver and Victoria on February 5 last, was applied for before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald yesterday in Supreme Court chambers here by J. Percival Walls. The application was allowed, and the official administrator, R. L. Cox, named to wind up the estate. The heirs are nephews and nieces in the Old Country.

Out of Court—In the city police court yesterday morning when the charge against W. A. Laming was called, C. L. Harrison announced that he felt that the decision of the County Court judge, made several days before, would evidently have the effect of taking this charge out of the police court. The documents alleged to have been stolen were, he understood, assigned by the judge to the defendant in the police court action. E. V. Finlan agreed with this view, but Mr. Harrison suggested an "adjournment for a week later in order that no question might exist in the matter. This was agreed to.

Pleased With City—S. C. Parker, of Bridgeport, Conn., who is visiting British Columbia, attended the luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club yesterday as a member of the Kiwanis organization in his home city. He expressed the pleasure he had had on his trip to British Columbia and promised that next year he would spend more time in Victoria. When the club sang "O Canada" at the opening of the luncheon, Mr. Parker said that he could not help feeling that Canadians would never have "to stand on guard" against their neighbors from the south. They were too good friends for that.

RECENT FEDERAL ACTS REVIEWED

President of the Sanction Conservative Association Gives Short Address to Members

Giving an outline of the accomplishments of the Bennett Government and referring specially to the legislation under the heading of economic reform, Brian Hoole, president, addressed members of the Sanction Conservative Association in the Campbell Building last night.

Mr. Hoole referred to the amendments to the national banking system, the creation of the Natural Products Marketing Act, the Minimum Wage Act and the Hours of Work Act which, he declared, had been of inestimable value to the groups concerned. He said he had every reason to believe that further important legislation would be forthcoming when the session resumes on May 20, mentioning particularly reforms that will follow the report of the Price Spreads Inquiry Commission.

ELECTION MATTERS
Mr. Hoole also spoke on organization in preparation for the forthcoming Federal election and urged ward chairmen to scrutinize voters lists for their respective wards and to be ready for the first sitting of the Court of Revision.

A number of routine business matters were transacted at the meeting and Mr. Hoole announced that Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie had kindly given the use of his grounds for the annual picnic planned for July 1.

LONDON, May 14 (CP-Havas)—Londoners blinked in surprise this morning at the sight of snow falling in the British capital in the middle of May.

FINDS HUSBAND DEAD AT DESK

SASKATOON, May 14 (CP)—His dead resting in his hand as if he had fallen asleep at his work, Dr. R. T. McGibbon, aged thirty-seven, professor of anatomy in the college of medicine, was found dead before his desk at the University of Saskatchewan this morning.

The body was discovered by Mrs. McGibbon, who came to seek her husband after a night of anxiety. Doctor McGibbon, who had been working late hours recently, failed to return home from his office last night.

WORK BEFORE HIM

Examination by medical men led to the belief that Doctor McGibbon had been the victim of a sudden illness. His work lay before him on his desk.

Arriving from Glasgow several years ago Doctor McGibbon became assistant professor of anatomy under Professor J. B. Grant at the University of Manitoba. Professor Grant is a brother of Mrs. McGibbon. Doctor McGibbon then came to the University of Saskatchewan when the medical school was founded eight years ago.

His widow and a son, Robin, survive.

Club Hears Address on London's Famous Tower

Mr. K. C. Symons Delights Members of Women's Canadian Club With Vivid Word-Picture of Historical Interest

The choice of "The Tower of London" as the subject of an address given before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon by Mr. K. C. Symons, headmaster of St. Michael's School, was a particularly happy one, when people's minds are centred on the silver jubilee of Their Majesties.

The address, which Mr. Symons has given on previous occasions in Victoria, and which always delights his audience, was most thoroughly enjoyed, and his vivid word picture, his fund of historical data and clearly presented talk will live long in the memories of all who heard the address, proving equally interesting to those who had visited the tower and to those for whom that treat is yet in store.

The tower "embodies in stone the history of England," Mr. Symons said in his preliminary remarks. He told of the plans for the tower which will be staged within the ancient walls this month in connection with the Jubilee festivities, and of the improvements which are being made in the districts adjacent to the tower. It is hoped to make it to the East End of London what Trafalgar Square is to the West End, Mr. Symons declared.

CROWN JEWELS
Of special interest were Mr. Symons' description of the Crown Jewels, the various towers which surround the central white tower, St. John's Chapel, and the famous "Ceremony of the Keys," which takes place each night at 10 o'clock when the tower gates are closed.

Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, the president, who was in the chair, paid a sincere tribute of appreciation to the speaker, on behalf of the members of the club, and thanked him for his able address.

CHARMING SOLOIST
The soloist of the afternoon was Miss Patry Swift, a very gifted young soprano, from whom great things may be expected in local musical circles. Her fresh, clear voice with its ringing quality and the ease with which she sings made a great appeal, and her two numbers, "Villanelle" and "Song of

Wife of Social Credit Exponent in Canada

Mrs. C. H. Douglas Tells of Opportunities Open to Women in Many Fields of Endeavor—Tells of Successes

EDMONTON, May 14 (CP).—Marvelous opportunities are open to women today, in the opinion of Mrs. C. H. Douglas, wife of Major Douglas, famous exponent of social credit, who is spending a few weeks in Edmonton with her husband.

One of the most distinguished women in Great Britain, the only woman director of a shipbuilding yard, and a person of wide interests and experience, Mrs. Douglas is interested in Canadian women and their various fields of endeavor.

Mrs. Douglas is vice-president of the Women's Engineering Society of Great Britain, which has a membership drawn from the British Isles, Canada, Australia and the United States, and of which Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, famous aviatrix, is the president. Although she is not an engineer, her work as director of a yacht yard in Southampton water entitles her to membership and makes her a valuable asset to the administrative side of the society's work.

INVENTIVE MINDS
Many of the younger women of the society are doing intensely interesting pioneer work in the fields of electrical engineering and metallurgy, securing the highest available degrees and distinguishing themselves as inventors, said Mrs. Douglas. One owns and operates a garage; another, Miss Kennedy, past president of the organization, is general manager of a large tool-making firm. Miss Holmes, another officer, is interested in railway engineering and has invented a device now in general use on British railways. She is employed in the British Patent Office. Another member is manager of a large nail factory, and many are flyers, one making a splendid business of taking aerial photographs.

Particular interest in the Old report of the dance was given. Plans are completed for the mystery presentation, on Monday, May 20. Annual reports were received and special thanks were tendered Lenora Trickett and Vivian Dods for their untiring work. Mr. S. Cooper, retiring president, spoke a few words in which he expressed his appreciation to those who had supported him. The following were elected for the coming year: Patron, Rev. Canon Chadwick; honorary vice-president, S. C. Hawkins; honorary president, S. Cooper; president, J. Hooper; vice-president, A. Paver; recording secretary, Miss S. Schofield; corresponding secretary, Miss F. Smith; publicity secretary, S. Laver; treasurer, J. White; program, J. Laver; social, Miss L. Merton; missionary, Miss B. Forsyth; music and dramatics, Miss N. Creelman; visiting, Miss T. Hildout. Canon Chadwick voiced his sincere gratification for the manner in which the work of the A.Y.P.A. has been carried out during the season.

THE MOVING SPIRIT
Mrs. Douglas also is a past president of the Women's Institute at Salisbury, near Southampton, and very much interested in women's institute work in Canada. She also is interested in the activities of the Federation of Business and Professional Women.

"The difficulties in opportunities open to women make these limited words of mine," she remarked, "but throughout the interview she showed her conviction that these eventually would be solved and that women would find their rightful place in the economic and social scheme of things."

Anglican Young People
ST. JOHN'S
Hymns and prayers opened the annual meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A. on Monday evening. A great deal of routine business was covered, including a report of the play which was voted a wonderful success. All those who assisted were heartily thanked. A cheque was sent to the Columbia Coast Mission and one to St. John's Church. A Particular interest in the Old report of the dance was given. Plans

Members were reminded by Mrs. Bertha Parsons of the fact that James Gibson, Rhodri scholar, had been invited to go to Ottawa shortly to give a paper for the National League of Nations Society and, owing to this, Mr. Gibson would be unable to address the meeting of the council, as planned.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES
ROYAL OAK
The monthly meeting of Royal Oak Institute was held recently in the hall. Miss K. Oldfield presided. Congratulations were extended to Miss Oldfield on receiving the King's Jubilee medal. A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. L. H. McQueen. It was decided that a donation of $3 be sent to the Salvation Army. To the Federated W.I. and the Provincial W.I. the 15 per cent per capita tax will be allowed, to help finance their conferences. The sum of $5 was donated to the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society. A donation to the Manitoba Peace Garden will be forwarded at a later date. The secretary was instructed to write to the proper authorities regarding the dangerous condition of Church Hill on the West Saanich Road, asking for repairs to parking space and a request that a slow-up sign be erected. A report on the Victoria Horticultural Society was given by Mrs. Hoole, who also gave a paper on the fair and plantings of a garden. The work which this Institute will undertake at the Fall Fair at the Willows was also discussed. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. K. Oldfield for convening the institute exhibit at the Vancouver Island Horticultural Society Spring Show, when Royal Oak received the first prize and challenge cup. A letter will be sent congratulating the Royal Oak School teachers on the splendid display of children's work, which was shown at the recent flower show. A vote of thanks was extended to all persons who donated prizes for the Spring Flower Show, which was an outstanding success. Plans were made for a "Contradiction Dance" to be held in the hall on Friday. Tea was served by Mrs. Langrish and Mrs. Monaghan.

CONGRATULATE RECIPIENT OF KING'S MEDAL
Miss Crease, one of Victoria's citizens who was selected for the honor of being presented with a Jubilee medal on the occasion of the celebration here last Monday, was congratulated by the Local Council of Women on Monday. Mrs. C. G. Spafford, the president, made the speech of felicitation, and Mrs. William Grant presented a pretty corsage bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Crease graciously responded to the compliment.

The council again discussed the matter of an emblematic flower for the Native Daughters of British Columbia, which she had organized, but on motion of Mrs. E. C. Hart, the council decided to request the Victoria and Island Horticultural Society to support a request that the erythronium or wild lily be chosen.

Members were reminded by Mrs. Bertha Parsons of the fact that James Gibson, Rhodri scholar, had been invited to go to Ottawa shortly to give a paper for the National League of Nations Society and, owing to this, Mr. Gibson would be unable to address the meeting of the council, as planned.

THE CHILD
By REGINALD H. WIGGINS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.C.
GETTING ON IN THE WORLD (For Children)
The first essential for getting on in the present-day world is to be a gentleman. Gentlemen don't grow overnight like mushrooms, they are developed over a period of years. Learning to be a gentleman begins when you are a little child, and whether you will be one or not depends on the training and guidance your mother and father and other adults give you and your relationship with others, but of greatest importance is how you train yourself and develop slowly but surely skill and self-control. To control your petty irritations, your really silly likes and dislikes, carelessness of speech, rudeness of action and selfishness.

Besides training yourself when you are young for this skill and self-control, you must be considerate towards others and have good will towards all. If you don't like a person, forget it and don't show it. Be respectful to older age, remembering that if a person is much older he knows more, as he has had a greater experience of the world than you. Lady Bessborough Pays High Honor to I.O.D.E.

National Chapter Holds Opening Session of Annual Meeting at Ottawa—Prime Minister Sends His Greetings

OTTAWA, May 14 (CP).—An address by the Countess of Bessborough and a message from Prime Minister R. B. Bennett marked opening ceremonies of the thirty-fifth meeting of the National Chapter of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, tonight. The meeting was attended by more than 300 members and delegates.

The opening proved a most colorful ceremony. Her Excellency marched through a guard of honor of Girl Guides, and I.O.D.E. standard bearers, dressed in white and headed by the National standard bearer, Miss Charlotte Whitton, C.B.E., preceded Her Excellency. "Land of Hope and Glory" was played by an orchestra as the procession advanced.

"The more I see of your order the more I admire the admirable work you are doing," said Her Excellency, following which she gave a brief resume of the work of the order in its various phases of endeavor.

LOYALTY OF ORDER

She spoke of the intense loyalty to the Empire, an inspiration to all who came in contact with members of the order, and stated that whenever she and her husband had been traveling throughout the Dominion, they had always met and been welcomed by the I.O.D.E.

Felicitations were extended by the Prime Minister in a message. Mr. Bennett wished them every success with their meeting and stated he was particularly glad to welcome the delegates to the capital city during the period of the Jubilee.

Following the opening ceremonies, a reception was held, at which Her Excellency received.

With this end in view, a small party is expected to take the field in July.

IS VAST RESERVE

The immensity of power potentialities on the Fraser, if present suppositions are correct, can be seen from comparison with 700,000 horsepower, the sum total of all developed power in the province at present. Use of the new sources of power, however, must eventually wait on commercial needs.

Power consumption within British Columbia has been steadily rising in the last few months, a factor of considerable bearing on recovery in business, Provincial officials explained.

Saltspring Hospital Has Nurses' Home

SALTSRING ISLAND, May 14.—A large number of island residents were present at the Lady Minto Hospital, Ganges, on Saturday, on the occasion of a shower, held for the benefit of the institution and the opening of the new nurses' home.

Mr. W. M. Mout, chairman of the hospital board, in his short address, referred to the pleasure felt by all the friends of, and subscribers to, the hospital, in accomplishing of this long-felt want. The board, he said, was greatly indebted to the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., Sunshine Guild and other organizations for their material help. He hoped the building adjacent to the hospital would form the nucleus of a good nurses' home in time.

He handed the key to Mrs. Walter, widow of Mr. Edward Walter, who had been president of the board of directors since its inception in 1913.

HOME INSPECTED

Following the formal opening by Mrs. Walter, those present inspected the home, comprising a bed and sitting-room, comfortably furnished with its many gifts, including a lovely new chest-of-drawers and easy chairs to match. Although at present only two rooms are completed, it affords the nurses and especially the night nurses, the quiet and privacy necessary apart from the hospital, and in time will be added to.

The guests were all entertained to tea in the corridors and dining-room of the hospital by the ladies of the hospital auxiliary, the matrons and nurses.

Everywhere masses of lovely spring flowers were seen, and with the newly-painted and decorated interior of the building, the hospital looked most attractive.

Misses G. Tait and F. Grove helped towards the entertainment by reading tea cups and cards. The shower of gifts received was the largest ever donated to the hospital, a room being crowded with the presents, which included linen, china, provisions, kitchen utensils, and all farm produce.

INSURANCE IS INVESTED HERE

Policyholders Are Main Money Lenders to Gov'ts and Municipalities

The main lenders of money to governments and municipalities in Canada are the 3,500,000 Canadian men and women who own policies in life insurance companies operating in the Dominion. Being thrifty people, concerned for the welfare of themselves and their families, they have placed their savings in life insurance. Life insurance companies, in their turn, have invested these savings, to their policyholders' advantage, in Dominion, provincial and municipal bonds and debentures, in first mortgages on carefully-selected city, town and farm properties, in loans to policyholders, etc.

The major part of these savings is invested in Government bonds and debentures. There is not a province, not a municipality, that has not benefitted from life insurance funds. In the case of Ontario, for example, life insurance companies hold for their policyholders $120,000,000 of Province of Ontario bonds, $99,000,000 of Ontario municipal bonds, $13,000,000 of Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario bonds and $4,000,000 of other Ontario-guaranteed securities—a total of no less than $236,000,000.

DEBENTURES HELD

Twenty per cent of the $129,700,000 of debenture obligations of Canada's 4,280 municipalities are held by the policyholders of life insurance companies. The total of these holdings is no less than $275,000,000.

Any default in interest on these bonds and debentures directly affects the interest of one-third of the savings of 3,500,000 men and women who are the backbone of the nation. In the main they are the bondholders. It is their savings, to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars, that have helped to build Canada.

They have given the farmer money to build homes and barns; to buy seed, purchase implements and livestock; to harvest the crops. They have stimulated business for the corner store and the country merchant. They have given employment to urban workers in cities, towns and villages all across Canada. They have extended transportation facilities by rail and water, built highways, paved streets, erected schools, constructed water, sewer and other public utilities, provided money for all kinds of necessary Federal, provincial and municipal undertakings. What life insurance policyholders' millions have meant in sustaining national life, in relieving the strain upon relief funds, can never be over-estimated.

It may be a mistake not to participate in any activities proposed for amusement purposes. Married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, will be wise to avoid any subject today, which may cause an argument, as tempers may be easily aroused.

If a woman and May 15 is your birthday, be careful not to permit yourself to become too self-absorbed in some personal hobby, as your friends may decide you have lost interest in them. It is most essential you take an active part in social activities when asked to take part, if you may find people will get tired of having their invitations declined and loneliness may result. You will be very happy married. If you do not display indifference should your husband like to discuss his affairs with you. Office detail work, stenography, bookkeeping, teaching, as well as social welfare, are among some of the lines of activity which may provide congenial employment.

The child born on May 15, when it reaches high school age, may show a preference for its books, more than the companionship of those of its own age. This must be discouraged. Every effort should be made to make it take an active interest in its sports, as well as the pleasures of those whose companionship is desirable for it to cultivate.

If a man and May 15 is your natal day, your willingness to take things for granted, and readiness to seek the cause of effect, probably will be responsible for your ultimate success. Educational, legal, medical, chemical, as well as technical lines requiring salesmanship, are among the lines of work for which you may be best adapted.

CANNOT CHANGE CELONA'S BAIL

Chief Justice Macdonald Refuses to Interfere With His Previous Order

No change is to be made in the order representing the bail for Joe Celona from what was fixed by Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald a week ago. That order was for two sureties of $10,000 each, or three sureties totaling $20,000.

On application of Stuart Henderson, counsel for the accused Celona, who stands committed of having lived in part off the avails of prostitution, the matter of bail was reviewed yesterday by the chief justice.

OUT OF ORDER
Col. Eric Pepler, deputy Attorney-General, appearing for the Attorney-General, took the position that the application of Mr. Henderson was out of order when he asked for the alteration of the bail order to admit of six sureties being accepted rather than three so long as the total represented was $20,000. The order had been made some days ago, Col. Pepler said, and it was not within the power of the judge making it to alter that order.

With this view of the matter, Chief Justice Macdonald agreed and he ruled that his order, having been made, must stand. He pointed out that the accused would soon have his appeal disposed of by the Court of Appeal.

SAYS REGISTRAR ERRED
Mr. Henderson took the position that the registrar of the court had erred in the valuation that he placed on certain properties that were represented in the securities proposed to be given.

Col. Pepler pointed out that the registrar had been named as the judge of the valuations to be placed upon the securities that were proposed, and he had, in his opinion, placed a fair value upon them.

The chief justice pointed out that the registrar was the person who decided upon the valuation of the securities, and it was not possible to interfere with him in this duty.

HEADING FOR SCENE OF RUMORED GOLD STRIKE

NOME, Alaska, May 14 (AP).—Headed for a rumored gold strike in isolated Arctic country 150 miles south of Martin's Point, 300 miles east of Point Barrow, five men were on their way by plane yesterday.

Frank Martin and Ross J. Kinney, piloted by Joe Amos, left by plane three days ago, and George Laibin and a native named Tommy Woods left in another plane Sunday.

The strike is reported to have been found by Eskimos in the foothills on the north slope of the Endicott Range.

No star has been certainly identified as the Star of Bethlehem. It is common belief among Christians that this was a supernatural phenomenon.

The girls of the Victoria High School have been rehearsing in wand, dumbbell and Indian clubs for the massed display at the Royal Athletic Park on June 5. The boys, under Coach W. A. Roper, are working hard to obtain perfection in the spectacular pyramids on the parallel bars and box-horse.

Frank L. Tupman's girls' choir sang three selections at the Friday morning's assembly in place of the usual operatic victrola music. The performance given by the choir speaks well for its success in the coming musical festival.

With the exception of handling the refreshments on Victoria High School Sports Day, May 29, Beta Delta Society's activities for the 1934-35 season are complete. The last meeting, held in the library, witnessed the final of the interclass debating contest. Morton Gold

CAPITOL SCREENS MUSICAL PICTURE

Maurice Chevalier Plays Dual Role in Lively Presentation, "Folies Bergere"

Maurice Chevalier has his first dual role as star of "Folies Bergere." Twentieth Century's lavish production of the famous French musical comedy institution, which comes to the Capitol Theatre today. Chevalier plays both Charles, the gay, straw-haired, singing star of the "Folies Bergere," and the be-moaned, be-mistaken French Baron Cassini, noted for his amorous escapades. Thus, the personable French actor is both the hero and the "heavy," of this Darryl F. Zanuck production.

No trick photography—was required, however, as "Folies Bergere." Twentieth Century's lavish production of the famous French musical comedy institution, which comes to the Capitol Theatre today. Chevalier plays both Charles, the gay, straw-haired, singing star of the "Folies Bergere," and the be-moaned, be-mistaken French Baron Cassini, noted for his amorous escapades. Thus, the personable French actor is both the hero and the "heavy," of this Darryl F. Zanuck production.

Trying to keep his jealous blonde partner, Mim, placated and at the same time carry on a flirtation with the baroness, whose husband he is impersonating, keeps Charles stepping. The situation reaches a climax when the baron returns unexpectedly and tests his wife's fidelity by impersonating Charles. Intrigued, but uncertain, the baroness enacts an impassioned love scene with him, finally putting him off with an ardent kiss, with the result that next morning she finds herself distractedly believing one moment that the man was her husband, and the next, that he was Charles.

COLUMBIA John Barrymore and Theatre
A British Empire and China trade fair is being organized to take place in Hongkong from December 2 to December 28, for the purpose of displaying to the people of China the manufacture and primary products of the British Empire, thus increasing trade and promoting a better understanding between the two peoples. Thousands are expected to attend.

Special efforts will be made throughout the world to call attention to this trade fair. Exhibitors will be given the opportunity of meeting buyers from countries with whom, under ordinary circumstances, contact could only be established by a considerable expenditure of time and money spent in correspondence and traveling.

This project has the entire sympathy of the Hongkong Government and its practical support. In addition to the granting of the free use of a site, it is making a cash grant of $2,000 to assist the enterprise.

A tremendous kick sent the Rugby ball high into the air and over a fence, where it landed beside a coochee in a neighboring farmyard. A look of amazement came over the bird's countenance as he surveyed the ball. Then he pushed it into the henhouse and called the hens round him.

"I'm not grumbling, you understand," he said, seriously, "but I just want you to see for yourselves what is being done in other poultry yards."

DOMINION The days of the hand-theatre some cab, with old Dobbin setting the pace, form one of the many interesting backgrounds seen in "Princess O'Hara," the Damon Runyon magazine story now at the Dominion Theatre. One of the most entertaining pictures of the season is that breezy tale from the facile Runyan pen. Familiar sights of New York are viewed in the film.

TWO TED FOR MEDAL HONORS IN B.C. TOURNEY

Touring Japanese Professional Ball Players Will Open Series Today

Tokio Giants and Victoria Club to Play Three Games

First Fixture Will Be Played at Royal Athletic Park at 2:30 o'clock—Second Game at 5:30 o'clock—Third Encounter Tomorrow—Dailey and Musgrave to Pitch for Locals

OKIO Giants, touring Japanese professional ball players, will be seen in action at the Royal Athletic Park today and tomorrow, where they are billed to play a three-game exhibition baseball series with the Victoria Sons of Canada ball club. Two fixtures will be played today, the first at 2:30 o'clock, and the second at 5:30 o'clock. The third and final game with the smart ball players from the Far East will be played tomorrow evening commencing at 5:30 o'clock.

Rated as one of the smartest baseball clubs to ever visit Pacific Coast ball circles, with the exception of the major league teams which played at Vancouver last season, the Tokyo Giants have been barnstorming in spectacular fashion all along the coast. The Nippona play really smart baseball, and should draw one of the largest crowds in many seasons to the enclosure here to see them in action.

WILL STRENGTHEN CLUB

Victoria baseball club officials, anxious to make a good showing against the visitors, yesterday completed arrangements to bring in three leading Vancouver players for the series. Joe Dailey, big right-hander, and one of the best pitchers in the Vancouver Senior League; Tommy Musgrave, former Victoria twirler, now pitching good ball with the Home Gas nine, and Haugland, veteran shortstop of the Arnold & Quigley aggregation, are the players that will strengthen the Victoria line-up.

Roy Barnes, peppery backstop ace, and per of local receivers, will do the catching for the Victoria club. Claude "Slim" Belcher, elongated first sacker, will hold down the initial cushion with Freddie Gibbons, veteran ball player, on the keyhole bag. Haugland, Arnold & Quigley shortstop, will fill this position for the local nine. Jack Bacon, Sons of Canada infield ace, was yesterday moved to the hot corner when it was found that Cliff Hilton, Canadians' third sacker, was unable to participate in the series. Ken Fleming, Bill Holman and Steve Dunc were the fly ballers in the outer gardens. "Porky" Williams and Bill Bridgewood will also be in uniform and ready to get into the game at a moment's notice.

DAILEY TO PITCH

Joe Dailey has been selected to do the mound work in the first game today. He is a right-hander who has plenty of stuff on the ball, and is capable of turning in a good performance on the hill.

Tommy Musgrave, ace moundman in the Sons of Canada camp last season, will return to Victoria today to pitch against the visitors in the second game. Since he last pitched here, Musgrave has attended the National Baseball School at Los Angeles, and at the present time is on the hurling staff of the Home Gas nine of Vancouver. Musgrave's return to the local diamond will create added interest in the series as many of his fond admirers will be anxious to see what kind of ball he is pitching at the present time.

Starting hurlers for the Giants will not be known until just before the start of the fixtures. Victor Starffin and Eiji Sawamura are the two twirling aces with the Nipponese club, and pitched great ball in the exhibition series with the Vancouver club. Other pitchers on the Japanese hurling staff are Kenichi Aoshiba and Toshihide Hatafuku.

ARRIVE TODAY

The visitors will arrive here this afternoon from Seattle. They will be met at the boat by officials of the Victoria Baseball Club and will be escorted to the Dominion Hotel, their headquarters during the stay here. They will have a fifteen-minute workout at the Royal Athletic Park prior to the start of the afternoon game.

This evening the Tokyo Giants will be the banquet guests of the local Japanese at a big banquet. The complete roster of the Tokyo Giants follows:

Pitchers—Eiji Sawamura, Kenichi Aoshiba, Victor Starffin and Toshihide Hatafuku.

Catchers—Nobuo Kura, Takeshi Nakayama and Tamotou Uchibori.

Infielders—Fujio Nagasawa, first base; Shigeru Minohara, third base; Shiro Tsuchi, third base; Hisayori Karita, shortstop; Takao Tabe, second base; and Yukio Eguchi, utility.

Outfielders—Nobuaki Nidegawa, leftfield; Eiyasu Yajima, rightfield; Jimmy Punito Morio, centerfield; Kichiro Yamamoto, rightfield; and Ushaburo Shantomi, utility.

"WONDER GIRL" IS INELIGIBLE

Babe Didrikson Barred From Competing in U.S. Golf Tourney

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP).—The ambition of Mildred "Babe" Didrikson, Texas "wonder girl" athlete, to achieve national golf championship heights was abruptly halted today by an official edict of the United States Golf Association, ruling her ineligible for amateur competition because of her activities as a professional in other sports.

Miss Didrikson's disbarment, paralleling the case of Mary K. Browne in 1926, was precipitated by her entry in the women's Southern championship to be played in Louisville next week, following a recent victory in the Texas State women's tournament.

Encouraged by her triumph, she signified her intention to compete for the Southern crown and later attempt to wrest the United States championship from Virginia Van Wie at Minneapolis in August.

INVESTIGATES STATUS

The U.S.G.A. amateur status committee, which investigated Miss Didrikson's activities as a professional in other sports—baseball, basketball and billiards, advised the Southern association to reject her entry and simultaneously announced that Miss Didrikson would not be permitted to compete for the 1935 national championship.

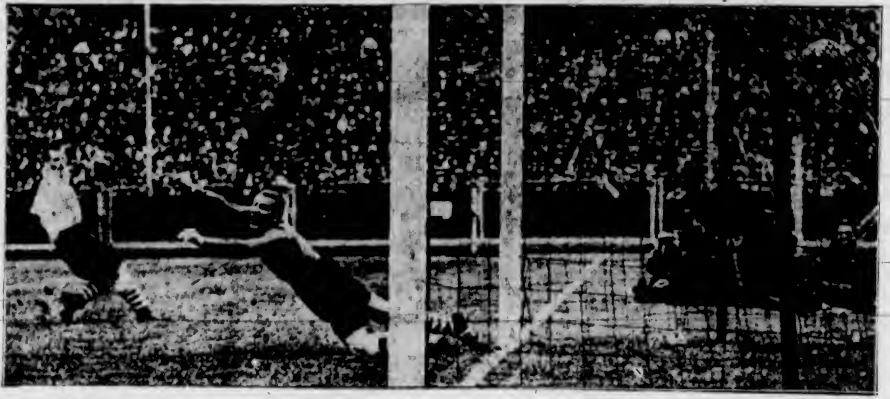

Nine years ago another amateur status committee barred Mary K. Browne, former United States tennis champion, from amateur golf for three years after she turned professional to tour the country with Suzanne Lenglen. Miss Browne has since been restored to good standing in amateur golf and has returned to national competition.

EDDIE WENSTOB LOSES TO FARR

LONDON, May 14 (CP).—Tommy Farr, of Wales, last night outpointed Eddie Wenstob, Edmonton lightweight boxer, in a six-round bout.

The fight was the headline encounter of a card arranged in aid of the Greater London fund for the blind. Wenstob gave his services for £25 (about $121), which did not cover his training expenses.

West Bromwich Scoring in Cup Final

Numbering the Prince of Wales among them, 100,000 rabid football fans crushed their way into Wembley Stadium, London, to see Sheffield Wednesday beat West Bromwich Albion in the English Football Cup final. Wednesday won, four goals to two, though Albion made it a thrilling game. Here is Boys, of West Bromwich, beating the Sheffield goalie, Brown, cleanly with a hard shot squarely between the posts. The Prince of Wales greeted the players before the game deputizing for the King, unable to attend through uncertainty of the weather.

GRADS DEFEAT U.S. CAGERS

Edmonton Basketballists Take Second Game of Big Series, 49-41

EDMONTON, May 14 (CP).—Edmonton Grads, perennial Dominion and world champions in the realm of women's basketball, made it two straight here last night over the Des Moines club in a best three-out-of-five series for the Underwood Trophy, emblematic of North American title. The score was 49-41. The third game will be played tomorrow night.

The Grads jumped into a lead at the first toss-up and never were overtaken until midway through the fourth quarter when the Des Moines girls made it 39-30, and held it there for several minutes. Then came a new Edmonton deluge in the last minutes of play.

SCORE TIED

Just three and a half minutes from full time the two clubs were even and it appeared the Des Moines club, taking full advantage of the poor performance of the Grads, would pull out with a triumph.

They had done more than most visiting clubs had done—outscoring the Grads in the second quarter, 18-10, holding the champions even in the third, 10-10, and then fading in the last ten minutes, 12-6. The score of 49-41 was one of the closest that any club has held the Grads to in some years.

Once again the visitors had the leading scorer of the night, Myrtle Maher, nicking the basket for a total of fifteen points. Noel MacDonald, starry centre of the Grads, was the runner-up with thirteen.

Trio in Deadlock

DUNCAN, May 14.—Three golfers tied for the men's monthly medal competition at the Cowichan Golf Club Sunday and will play-off during the week. A. Prevost finished with a gross 74, handicapping seven, net 67; T. H. Kingscott, 81-14-67, and J. L. Maitland, 87-20-67.

Others competing were: F. Leeming, R. Bales, J. Martin, V. W. Tarleton, Col. Slater, A. E. Craig, N. Staples, E. W. Carr, Hilton, W. Prest, A. Leeming, R. W. Whilden and H. Haines.

U.S. NETTERS BEAT CHINA

Capture Final Two Singles Matches to Make Clean Sweep in Series

MEXICO, D.F., May 13 (AP).—The United States made a clean sweep of its Davis Cup tennis series with China yesterday, as Donald Budge, of Oakland, Cal., and Bryan MacGrant, of Atlanta, captured the first two singles matches.

Budge whipped Guy Cheng, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1, and Grant defeated Siang Kie Khoo, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3, to make the final score, 5-0.

By their victory, the Americans qualified to face Mexico this week in the American zone finals, the winner to meet the European zone finalists in the inter-zone finals abroad.

Budge and Gene Mako, the doubles combination which scored the clinching victory yesterday, will go abroad to compete in the Wimbledon singles and doubles championships, and possibly will play

Davis Cup doubles in the event the United States gets past Mexico this week.

HAD BEST NINE

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson was playing good golf over the first half of the route, which she carded in 43 to keep her well up with the leaders, but she slipped badly on the last nine and required 49. Marjorie Todd found the outgoing nine tough and reached the turn in 49, but steadied herself on the last half of the trip and came home in 43. However, it was left for a Mainlander to turn in the best nine of the day, when Marcia Mox picked up a neat 39 for her opening nine. Like many others, she had trouble playing the final part of the course and garnered a 49 for a 90.

Match play opens this morning in the championship and other flights. Peggy Hodgson will meet Mrs. E. D. Todd, winner of the play-off, while Mrs. Irvine tackles Mrs. Philbrick. An interesting match will bring together Mrs. Sayward-Wilson and Marjorie Todd.

Although an interested spectator and official of the tournament, Mrs. E. C. Sweeney, who picked up the Vancouver City title for the seventh time last week, did not face the starter. Mrs. Sweeney has held the British Columbia crown on several occasions and was a member of the Mainland Hurling Cup team in Monday's match.

dale, won the title a few years ago, finished in a deadlock in the qualifying test, as the curtain lifted on the annual British Columbia women's championship by returning cards of 87. The pair stroked their way into a tie by a lone walkover Mrs. Hutchinson, local contender, and Mrs. Eadie, Vancouver, who shared last position with 88's. A play-off will take place later in the week between the co-medalists for the qualifying prize.

Mrs. V. Godfrey, Victoria, was the only other competitor to break 90, coming home with an 89. Miss Marjorie Moss, young Vancouver player, who had the best first nine of the day, was next with a 90, while Mrs. Bennett, Colwood, qualified easily with a 91. Marjorie Todd, twice a former city titleholder before heading for Europe to attend school, returned to competitive golf after a long lay-off and recorded a 92, the same as Mrs. Sayward-Wilson.

WINS PLAY-OFF

Next in line came Dorothy Fletcher, Uplands Club, who had a 93, and Peggy Allen, George Vale, who finished with a 94. Sharing the berth with Miss Fletcher was Mrs. W. McLean, Vancouver, and Mrs. Percy G. Abell, recently crowned Colwood champion. Miss Duff, Stuart, was the last of the Vancouver players to gain a berth, qualifying with a 97 along with Mrs. B. R. Philbrick. A play-off was necessary for last place between Mrs. E. D. Todd and Miss A. Dowell, who finished with 98's. The former won out.

In finishing in front of the pack, Mrs. Peggy Hodgson and Mrs. Irvine had identical, same scores on both nines. They reached the turn in 43 and came home in 44. Mrs. Eadie and Mrs. Hutchinson, joint holders of runner-up position also did similar scoring. Each played the first part of the distance in 42 and carded 46 on the back stretch. Mrs. Godfrey had a 45 going out and a 44 coming home.

REMEMBER WHEN

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Well trained and eager for the tap of the gong, all the stars in boxes that are to take part in the J.B.A.A. carnival on Tuesday night are ready to put up the best exhibition of boxing seen in the city for some time.

Fourteen boxers, making up a programme of seven assured fast bouts, will be seen in action at the A.O.U.W. Hall, and from the way they have been slipping up at the local athletic clubs, there is every evidence that the going will be fast and snappy all of the way.

Lacrosse fans sit back and smile with delight when contemplating how bright the prospects are this year. From the way the city league players are shaping up it looks as though Victoria will have a faster and more hard working lacrosse twelve than has represented this city in years. For a few twist down and pencil out a "rep" team from the three twelves that play in the city league is an utter impossibility, as there is such an abundance of real lacrosse material to select from.

Baseball enthusiasts in the employ of The Colonist Printing & Publishing Company met the other evening and organized a team, which is ready to meet any commercial nine of the city. The scalp that they are especially desirous of securing is that of Bowers, captain of the so-called Ideal Performers, representing another local publication.

BUITZ TO ENTER SCULLING EVENT

BERLIN, May 14 (AP).—American scullers will find a serious challenge in Herbert Buitz, German champion and two-time winner of the classic Diamond Sculls, who plans to enter the United States regatta on Lake Carnegie, Princeton, N.J., the middle of July. Buitz is Germany's hope for victory in the Olympic single sculls next year.

He first won the Diamond Sculls at the English Henley in 1922.

The United States regatta at Princeton, N.J., July 18 to 20, is expected to bring together one of the finest boats in the history of the event. Crack crews from Canada have been invited in addition to the best college and club oarsmen in the United States.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY-CARTOON

The Soldier of Three Centuries—Jean Theurel, of Dijon, France, who established the most amazing record of military service, was born in 1684. He joined the French Army in the regiment of Touraine in 1699 at the age of sixteen. France was then engaged in the Franco-Dutch war, and the next thirty years were filled with almost uninterrupted foreign warfare. Theurel engaged in 80 many battles that he could not compute them within a hundred or so of their actual number. He fought in the War of the Spanish and Austrian Succession, and served in a French regiment under the orders of Leszczynski, King of Lorraine.

In 1777, King Louis XV promoted the ninety-three-year-old veteran to the rank of captain and retired him from active service. Theurel had been wounded hundreds of times, but as he was not sufficiently incapacitated, he could not be sent to the Invalides. He continued to be carried on the active rolls of the army and resided at the barracks of the First Company in Paris. In 1802, Napoleon I granted him a pension of 1,500 francs, which he continued to draw until his death in 1807, at the age of 123. His "stretch" of army enlistment lasted from 1699 to 1802, a total of 103 years, and extended into three centuries.

Happy Landings—A great safety factor in the operation of airplanes is the strict regulation by the Department of Commerce making it compulsory that a plane be able to glide seven times as far as its altitude. However, most planes today will glide ten times their altitude, and therefore a plane flying at an altitude of two miles can choose any spot within an area of 1,256 square miles for a landing, should the motor go dead (2x10x2 equals 40 miles diameter). 40x40x254 equals 1,256 square miles. There are not many places in the United States where a landing spot cannot be found within such a large area.

RECORD ENTRY RECEIVED FOR SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Thirty-Five Senior Teams Will Play in Victoria This Year

Largest Number of Squads in History Will Open Play Next Week at City Parks—List of Opening Fixtures Announced—Keener Competition Is Expected

With thirty-five clubs entered in the senior sections, and further entries to come in for the women's and junior divisions, officials of the Lower Island Softball Association are today assured of a record entry for the coming season. It is estimated that when the final entry list is completed, close to fifty clubs, with an approximate total enrollment of between 700 and 800 players, will be under the wing of the island body.

Officials of the Lower Island Softball Association announced yesterday evening, following an executive meeting, that certain restrictions will be brought into force this season governing the signing of players for the various clubs.

Teams in the "C" section will be allowed to carry four players of the "B" division who have previously played in the "A" or "B" divisions. Clubs in the "D" section will be allowed to carry but three players of "B" calibre. The remainder of the players must be either of "C" or "D" calibre. Only three "A" players will be allowed on the "B" section squads.

Headed for Tennis Fame

MARGARET OSBORNE

Sixteen-year-old Golden Gate Park junior tennis player, who is slated by Howard Kinsey, California Tennis Club professional, to be destined for a place in the national championship ranks. And Kinsey should know. He was a champion himself and has played with many of the former women title-holders. "Margaret is very strong, has a serve like a man's, which is a feature few women develop—and, more than that, she has every shot. She is aggressive, too, and while she plays in beautiful form, will scramble if it is necessary to get that ball back over the net. What she needs now is experience," continued Kinsey.

Taylor, of Montreal, carded a 7; Ken Black, of Vancouver, an 86; and Dick Moore, of Vancouver, an 88.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

Why is it "impediment"? The richness of the English language is in large part due to the shadings and fine distinctions which its ingredients have acquired through usage by diverse people all through the centuries.

Let us consider, for example, the word impediment, which may be and frequently is almost anything to all men.

A speech defect is an impediment. A fence blocking a road is an impediment. Caesar, discussing military tactics, described baggage as impedimenta.

It is the last illustration which comes closest to the heart of the word, which is derived from the Latin impedimentum, which we have, in turn, from the root pen, pedis, pertaining to the foot.

Literally, therefore, an impediment is an object which, clutching or striking at our feet, is an obstacle to our going forward—a significance which was soon broadened to include anything which hinders progress.

UCLUELET HAS PRESENTATION

Jubilee Medal Given to Pioneer—Farewell Gift to Clergyman

UCLUELET, May 13 (By Mail).—The Ucluelet Athletic Association gave a smoker on Saturday evening in the clubhouse with a large attendance of members and friends. A musical programme was given by members of the club, including Elmore O'Leary, Charles Storch, Thomas Taylor, George Fraser, S. Ridout and others.

During the evening, George Fraser presented the Jubilee medal to Herbert J. Hillier, Mr. Hillier has been in the Government Telegraph Service for the past thirty-three years, and it was for this long term of service that he was honored. Mr. Fraser paid a high tribute to Mr. Hillier and other pioneers who, on the West Coast in the early days, had traveled by canoe in foul weather and fair in order to keep the telegraph line in repair, making communication with the outside world possible.

A FAREWELL GIFT
Later in the evening a handsome smoking set was presented by the president, P. G. Hillier, on behalf of the club, to Rev. J. W. Leighton and best wishes were extended to him in his new work; he was also presented with an honorary life membership to the association.

Mr. Leighton has been in charge of St. Aidan's Mission for the past five years and will leave by the end of the month for Vancouver, where he will take charge of a new parish. Rev. J. Burrows, who was also present, was given a very hearty welcome to Ucluelet. Mr. Burrows will assume charge of the West Coast Mission in Ucluelet, Bamfield and Tofino upon Mr. Leighton's departure.

West Point's sport schedule includes "math." The cadets initiated a mathematical contest with Harvard in 1927 and since then have created nearly as much excitement as Army's winning the annual football classic with the Navy. Another "math" contest is being arranged.

Jane Dixon Says:

COMMUNITY OF INTEREST IMPORTANT TO TWO PEOPLE WHO ARE SERIOUS ABOUT MARRIAGE

The question of age, I find, is even more of a consideration in marriage than the question of money.

Why?

Now I'll ask you a question. That is: What has a few months, a few years even, to do with a partnership that is entered into on the basis of love and affection? If it is a partnership that is entered into across the Unknown Border into other worlds and other lives?

A too great difference in age is, of course, a considerable gamble. But what is a too great difference in age?

I have known, and so have you, women who are old at twenty and men who are young at fifty.

The safest insurance one can take nowadays on married happiness is community of interest.

Marry the one who likes to go the same places, do the same things, meet the same people, you like.

ERASE DIFFERENCE IN AGES FROM MIND

Dear Miss Dixon: Does age really matter a great deal? I'm a woman of twenty-two and go with a fellow three years my junior. We've been friends for several years, but lately we've become quite serious about it. Our tastes are in common, and we get on wonderfully well. When we're together I forget the difference in our ages, but when I'm away I wonder. He says he loves me, that age makes no difference.

I know several fellows my own age and older, and go out with them frequently. They do not attract me as does the boy I've known since he was thirteen. He has always seemed older for his age.

Tell me truly, Miss Dixon, should I give him up and forget him? That would be mighty hard to do, but if you will give me your opinion and perhaps erase all doubt from my mind, I will be very grateful indeed.—Sue.

Answer: If you were thirty, Sue, and the man was twenty-seven, I could honestly erase the doubt from your mind. Nowadays age is a matter of community of tastes and of interest, of harmony and of mutual attraction after one has reached the age of maturity. Your young man is still very young in years, but you know him much better than I do. He may be older than his years.

If you decide to go on being serious about your attachment, then you, personally, must erase all thought of the difference in age from your mind. If you continue to let it and fear it, you will communicate the thought to him and the whole affair will end unhappily.

PARENTS AGAINST MAN SHE LOVES

Dear Jane Dixon: I am nearly twenty-five and have two suitors. Both seem to love me and have asked me to marry them.

The one I love best my parents dislike. He is ten years older than I am. My parents say if I marry him I can never step inside their house. He is a poor boy, but he works hard and does the best he can.

The other man is only four years my senior, and is wealthy; that is, he has everything one could wish for. My parents think the world of him and want me to marry him. I like him, but not as I do the other one.

I want to please my parents, and I do not want to make a mistake in my marriage.—Unknown.

Answer: If the young man you love is a steady and an upright young man, I believe you should follow your heart in marriage. The fact that he is poor is nothing against him, so long as he is willing to work and anxious to succeed and to make you happy.

It is not the privilege your parents to choose your husband. It is you who must live with him, not your parents. Mothers and fathers want to see their children do well materially, because this is a kind of insurance on comfort. They cannot be forgiven, however, for using threats to acquire material comfort or luxury for their children. I would use my best in making a decision, but I would make my heart the dominating influence.

Carefully-Arranged Programme Suits All Tastes—Gymnasium Fund Benefits

DUNCAN, May 14. — The two piano recital by Miss Owen Harper and Edgar Holloway and the soprano solo of Mrs. N. Macintosh provided a real treat for music lovers at the 5-3 win over the Athletics in a league fixture at Athletic Park here tonight.

By the second inning the clubmen had the Gas boys on the short end of a 3-1 score, but two runs in the third frame brought them up on even terms, and while the clubmen were being held scoreless for the rest of the game, Home Gas K. of P. Hall in Duncan on Monday evening. The programme was carefully arranged with selections to suit all tastes and the audience expressed appreciation with insistent demands for encores.

Miss Harper and Mr. Holloway opened with Bach's two-organ chorale preludes, "Thou Art My Joy" and "Mortify Us by Thy Grace," and then played "Variations on 'Theme' by Beethoven," by Saint Saens; three movements from Mozart's Sonata in D, "Allegro con Spirito," "Andante," and "Allegro Molto"; two Arensky pieces, "Thayer's 'My Lullaby' and 'Danseuse'"; "La Coquette" and "La Danseuse."

The Arensky selections from Suite Op. 15, Romance, Waltz and Polonaise were loudly acclaimed and brought Schubert's "Hark, Hark, the Lark" for an encore. The Victoria artists closed the programme with Strauss-Chasing "Blue Danube Waltz," Saint Saens' "Danse Macabre" and Chabrier's "Espagne" and as an encore a Brahms waltz, Op. 39.

CASE REOPENED TO HEAR WITNESS
In the Saanich police court, yesterday, Magistrate Jay postponed giving judgment in the case of Dominic Pallantieri, charged with having liquor for sale, because of the application of H. A. Maclean, K.C., to reopen the case for the submission of James Green as a witness, which will take place on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Maclean took the position yesterday that in this case he had information that the witness referred to, who had been described as having been seen coming out of the place of the accused, had not been at the premises that night. There was another house nearby and it might have been from there he came. Opportunity to reopening the case was offered by H. Harold Tait for the prosecution, but the magistrate said that he would allow the calling of the witness.

Little Stories for Bedtime

A Tumble From a Tree-Top
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

It is bad business to lose one's temper anywhere, but it is especially bad to lose it in a tree-top. You ask Buster Bear if it isn't so. If you lose your temper completely you are very apt to forget where you are or what you are doing. This is just what happened to Buster when he found that, do what he would, he couldn't quite reach prickly Porky in the top of that tall tree.

He growled and snarled and did his best to frighten Prickly Porky into letting go, but it was of no use at all. The more frightened he became the higher Prickly Porky clung to the top of the tree. Then Buster Bear tried to shake Prickly Porky loose. Standing on a couple of branches which he thought big enough to hold him, Buster reached up and with his great arms around the trunk of the tree shook with all his might. He might just as well have tried to pull that great tree up by the roots as to shake Prickly Porky off. You see Prickly Porky has been in a tree-top through many a great wind. In fact, it sometimes seems as if Prickly Porky enjoys being swung about in the top of a tree. The more Buster shook the more lightly Prickly Porky clung.

Right in the midst of Buster Bear's effort to shake Prickly Porky loose, Sammy Jay came along. The minute he saw what was going on, Sammy began to scream at the top of his lungs. Here was something truly exciting, and Sammy just loves excitement. Of course everyone within hearing of Sammy's voice hurried over to find out what was going on. Blacky the Crow was the first to arrive, and of course he began to caw at the top of his lungs. That brought a lot of his relatives. As fast as they arrived and saw what was going on they became as excited as Blacky and Sammy Jay. Never was there a greater racket in the Green Forest. All this noise added to Buster's temper. Now the branches he was standing on were not big enough to stand anything like this. Without any warning at all there was a sharp snap and one of those branches broke off close to the trunk. That brought all of Buster's great weight on the other branch, and that snapped. Buster tried frantically to hang on with his arms, but the trunk of the tree was too small at that point, and down he went, kicking and clawing and trying to save himself. Of course the branches below him were larger and these broke but failed somewhat. When he would hit one it would break, and down he would go to another one. Finally he landed on the ground with a thump that knocked all the wind out of him. How those crows and Sammy Jay did yell!
